MADRID, June 1.

INTELLIGENCE has juſt been received here of another dangerous inſurrection of the Chileſe and Sangles, &c. in the iſland of Luconia or Manila, which was not quelled when the advices came away, and was likely to end in very ſerious conſequences. The inſurgents roſe in the night, and after killing ſeveral of the Spaniſh Alcaides, and other officers, ſeized upon the fort, which commands the entrance of the river, took poſſeſſion of moſt of the ſhips in the harbour of Cavite, which town they made themſelves maſters of. The Governor of Manila, who luckily eſcaped their fury, was preparing to quell them, which it is hoped is by this time effected.

Vienna, June 12. We are now informed by the public papers, that his Imperial Majeſty is ſafely arrived at Vi-Egyhax, or Loeſkirchen, in Tranſylvania, where he intends to ſtay a few days; and though it is not mentioned where he intends to go when he leaves that place, it is the general opinion, that he will go to Moldavia and Walachia, the ſeat of the preſent war, which is a very remarkable thing in the preſent ſituation of affairs.

All the letters lately received from Conſtantinople agree, that the Turks are uncommonly embaraſſed with the bad ſucceſs of their arms, and with the accounts that are daily brought of the great progreſs the Ruſſians make. They have juſt received the news that the Turkiſh army, commanded by Dageſthanli Ali-Pacha, has been totally deſtroyed by the Ruſſian General Potemkin; and though the particulars were not exactly known, yet they were aſſured that the loſs was very conſiderable, and that the Commander himſelf, and Muderin Oſman Pacha were made priſoners of war. This loſs was followed by another greater, and of worſe conſequence; for Abdi-Pacha, Boſtagni Pacha of Adrianople, and Chiaoux-Pacha, expecting that Dageſthanli Ali-Pacha would be attacked by the Ruſſians, marched with their troops to his aſſiſtance; but as they came too late, and their troops were much fatigued with their march, they were immediately attacked, and ſhared the ſame fate; and the three Commanders, and a number of officers were made priſoners, and their army beaten and ſcattered, on the 25th and 26th of April. Count Romanzow, who was ſoon acquainted with the victory obtained by his General, diſpatched an army of 15000 men, which paſſed the Danube near Tulcia, to ſupport him, and being joined by them, General Potemkin advanced, without meeting with any oppoſition to near Garaſow, in order to beſige Varna, where the Ruſſian priſoners are ſecured, and where they will have a communication with the Ruſſian ſquadron in the Black Sea; ſo that in caſe the army of the Grand Vizir ſhould be defeated, or meet with the leaſt check, Conſtantinople will very ſoon be blocked up. In the mean time the loſs of the above four Commanders is computed to be equal to that of loſing half the army.

On the 17th of May a Tartar arrived at Conſtantinople, who brought the report, that the 15,000 Ruſſians, who paſſed the Danube near Tulcia, are entirely ſurrounded by the Turks; and that the Grand Vizir, with his army, marched on the 6th of May to join the other armies; and that in conſequence of his march General Romanzow will paſs the Danube, and a general battle will enſue, the event of which they impatiently wait for at Conſtantinople; as, if the Ruſſians gain a victory, it will be very near putting an end to the Ottoman empire.

LONDON.

June 8. A Jew died lately at Berlin, who left immenſe ſums of money in a variety of odd legacies, and amongſt the reſt, a million of ducats to the King of Pruſſia; and ſent to the King, who came to him the day before he died, when he read this part of the will to his Majeſty, and then ſaid, you have taken from me as much already againſt my will, but of this I do make you a free gift.

June 18. They write from Peterſburgh, that the chief of the Don Coſſacks, who was confined in the fortreſs there, by order of the Empreſs, for a miſdemeanor, has been privately put to death, and that his great wealth has been ſeized for the uſe of her Majeſty; but that it is judged this will prove a troubleſome affair to the Empreſs, as he was well reſpected in his own country, and it was thought had he been brought to a trial by a Council of War, which was appointed for that purpoſe, he would have been acquitted.

June 19. Prince Mazareno will not return again to this kingdom in his ambaſſadorial capacity, but the Comte de Ricla is appointed in his room. This Comte was Governor of Havannah, on the ever to be regretted reſtitution of it to the Spaniards.

A turbot, weighing only eight pounds, was ſold at Billingſgate, on Saturday laſt, for eight guineas.

June 21. It is ſaid the expences of the ſham fight at Portſmouth will be 22,000l. Better ſo than in briberry and corruption.

A correſpondent at Portſmouth informs us, that a tradeſman there had engaged part of his houſe, during his Majeſty's ſtay at that place, to three foreigners of diſtinction, at the moderate price of 100 guineas.

June 23. Among other ſtrange cuſtoms of manors in England, there is one, that whenever the King comes to Lotheby manor, near Guilford, in Surry, the Lord (who is at preſent Col. Molineux) is to preſent his Majeſty with three whores. Lotheby manor lies in the road to Portſmouth; and his Majeſty muſt go through it.

Lodgings at Portſmouth are 25 guineas for a week, and 10 guineas for a ſingle night.

June 25. The enemies of government cannot betray their malice more, than in cenſuring our Sovereign for his excurſion to Portſmouth. It is hard indeed, if he muſt be denied the pleaſure that the meaneſt of his ſubjects are not debarred from, nay, in the worſt of times, will have their Sunday's jaunt; but if he, for once in his life, goes to ſee one town in his dominions, more than London, a whole torrent of abuſe muſt accompany him. Shame on ſuch incendiaries!

All the expences attending the Portſmouth review will be paid off immediately.

The following is the ſource of the King of France's late indiſpoſition: Madame Barre, one morning, told his Majeſty ſhe had a favour to aſk him; and he, without the leaſt heſitation, told her he would grant it. She then ſaid it was her deſire to go Portſmouth, to ſee the naval review: This ſtruck him very much; however, at that time, he ſeemed to acquieſce very freely; but the next morning he was taken very ill, and his phyſicians, being previouſly inſtructed to ſay ſo, declared his diſorder a dangerous putrid ſore throat. Matters being thus unluckily circumſtanced, Madame Barre found ſhe could not, on any pretence, leave her paramour; a knowledge of this perfectly recovered him again.

We are credibly informed, the miniſtry have adopted the plan formed ſome years ago, for eſtabliſhing a regular Cuſtom-houſe and offices at Shetland, where certain duties are to be paid by the Dutch and other foreigners, yearly reſorting for the benefit of the herring fiſhery on the coaſt of that iſland.

man, whether such a profusion of fire and smoke did not give him an idea of Hell? The Rev. Ecclesiastic replied---"Yes; especially as I observed your Lordship to be in the midst of it."

It is computed by those well versed in naval affairs, that there are more ships of force, by one third, at present ready to put to sea, in the several ports of Europe, than at any time since the commencement of this century---A very seasonable memento to England, to endeavour to maintain its wonted superiority.

The former proportions of the naval force of Europe, divided into 20 parts, was England 7, Holland 6, and the rest of Europe 7. It is now a doubt whether England and Holland, taken together, form one half, or England alone above six parts out of twenty.

A number of small frigates and armed sloops are, we hear, now fitting out in the several Spanish ports. It is said that they are intended to protect their trade in the Mediterranean, and the Streights Mouth, against the piratical states; but the more prevailing opinion is, that this armament is chiefly designed for the Spanish main.

Very strict orders have, we are informed, been dispatched by the Court of Madrid to their several Governors in the West-Indies, to prevent the illicit practices carried on by the Dutch and English in those seas.

The real cause of our officers quitting the Russian service is, the envy and jealousy which prevails among the Empress's officers. Envious of Englishmens abilities and acknowledged reputation, they embraced every opportunity to undermine and injure them; and when dispatches were sent from Admiral Elphinstone to the Russian Admiral, to be forwarded to their Ambassador in London, they were treacherously suppressed. This was repeatedly done, and the discovery only made when the Admiral returned to England.

June 26. By letters from Vienna we learn, that several Chiefs of the Polish confederacy have lately arrived there, to put themselves under the protection of the Emperor.

They write from Toulon of the 11th instant, that the Count d'Estaing's squadron, consisting of seven ships of the line, was preparing to sail for the Mediterranean, to protect their trade from the insults of the Barbary powers.

Orders are certainly given for shipping off 1000 stands of small arms, with proper accoutrements, for the Electorate of Hanover.

An express lately received from the Court of Madrid, is said to contain further assurances of his Catholic Majesty's pacific intentions.

Letters from several parts of Hungary mention a strong expectation of a rupture breaking out between the Court of Vienna and the Turks.

By the Captains TYRIE and MILLER, arrived here from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

STOCKHOLM, June 12.

THE King began to encamp last Sunday at Laduguard; his Tent is in the midst of his Guards. His Majesty assembles his Councils in the Morning, and in the Afternoon exercises his Troops. The two Princes, his Brothers, are also encamped, and assist at the Exercises.

Warsaw, June 16. A Russian Courier, dispatched the 9th inst. by Field Marshal Count de Romanzow, is just arrived at the Hotel of Baron de Stackelberg, the Russian Minister here, and has brought him the following Advices:

"On the 29th of last Month, General Weisman attacked a Body of 12,000 Turks in their Camp, killed 1200, made 1500 Prisoners, and put the rest to Flight. The Russians seized, on this Occasion, all the Artillery belonging to the Turks, the greatest Part of their Baggage, and six Flags."

It is given out here, that as soon as the whole Russian Army shall have passed the Danube, the Austrian Army will act in Concert with them against the Turks; but these Reports stand in Need of Confirmation.

The Delegates have had several Conferences among themselves. This Session on Friday last was very tumultuous. Affairs would have been protracted to a great Length, if the Ministers of the three co-partitioning Courts had not pressed them vigorously. In the Session of Saturday, the Conferences were limited to the 3d of next Month. It is said that the King will assist at the approaching Sessions, to restrain by his Royal Presence those whose Dispositions may be too animated.

Hambourg, June 25. The Advices which we receive from Moldavia continue to be favourable to the Russians. Many of their Piquets have made Incursions on the other Side of the Danube, and repulsed the advanced Posts of the Ottomans. However, we have not yet learnt whether the Grand Army hath passed the above River. It is composed of 61,000 Foot, and 23,400 Cavalry, besides 2600 Canoniers. According to this List, the Army of Field Marshal Romanzow will consist of 87,000 Men.

Warsaw, June 18. Advices from Petersburgh import, that the Empress of Russia has written a letter to Prince d'Orlow, signifying her will and pleasure, that he should resume the functions of the offices which have been confided to him.

The same advices add, that this letter having been registered in the Senate, the Prince Orlow had again taken upon him the charge of all his posts and dignities, from which he had been exempted for some time past.

Amsterdam, July 1. Private letters from Batavia, dated the 6th of November last, advise, that M. Vanderburgh, Governor of Samarang, being then at the eastern point of Java, had found means to put an end to the war between the East-India Company and the Balemboeangers or Baalers, by the conclusion of an amicable treaty; so that the public tranquility was entirely restored, not only in the island of Java, but in the country bordering upon Balemboeang.

Petersburgh, June 11. The letters which arrived yesterday from Moscow brought the melancholy account of a fire having happened in that city, by which upwards of one thousand houses were burnt. It broke out on both sides of the river, and was not extinguished at the departure of the post. There have likewise been fires at Kostrom and Chabacsar, which have done great damage; but it is hoped that the linen manufactories at Kostrom have been saved.

Edinburgh, July 2. We hear from the Isle of Sky, that near 800 people have agreed to go to North-Carolina, and have engaged a vessel at Greenock to carry them over, which is to sail next month. We hear that about 300 people in Glengary have also agreed to go to New-York, and are to set sail about the same time.

LONDON.

June 29. It is now confidently reported, that Lord Mansfield will retire from the Bench as soon as the present term is over.

Letters dated June the 15th bring an account, that a conspiracy had been formed by the Polanders against their Excellencies the Prussian, the Emperor of Germany's, and the Russian Ambassadors, wherein the two former were actually murdered, but the latter found means to escape.

General Paoli has at last obtained a very considerable post in the King of Sweden's army.

Extract of a Letter from Warsaw, June 18.

"His Polish Majesty has just delivered instruments to the Ministers of the three powers, containing the following resolutions, which the King solemnly declares he will abide by. That he will not accede to any one act of the Dyet, unless all the foreign troops are withdrawn from the kingdom of Poland, and great Duchy of Lithuania. That he will declare the acts already passed as illegal, and will call another Dyet to be held at Cracow, and will issue orders to all his subjects, not to furnish the foreign soldiers with any kind of provision, &c. These declarations are signed by the Prince Primate, and most of the grand officers of Poland and Lithuania."

They write from Hamburgh, that two Russians of distinction have just arrived there, to negotiate a loan for the service of the Empress of Russia.

July 1. Letters from Paris, by yesterday's mail, advise, that the troubles in the province of Guienne are at length appeased, the arrival of 36 ships, laden with corn, having caused all fears of a famine to vanish.

Extract of a Letter from Madrid, June 10.

"The liberty which the ships belonging to the Russian fleet in the Mediterranean have lately taken, of anchoring in any of the Spanish ports, without obtaining leave, has given much offence to our Ministers, and has occasioned fresh orders to be sent to the Governors of all the ports, not to suffer it for the future."

July 2. The report concerning the Aurora frigate seems to gain credit, though at the expence of probability; the account, as contained in a letter from Bombay, is briefly, that after having parted with the Hound and Stag sloops, off the Cape, the crew, irritated to despiration, by the repeated acts of barbarity and oppression from their officers, mntinied and killed every officer on board; after which they commenced pirates; and some months since, chasing two Dutch ships of considerable force, a circumstance they were ignorant of, they were, after a bloody engagement, themselves taken, and carried to St. Helena. This account blames the obstinacy of the Captain in parting company with the two sloops, and proceeding in a course against the advice of the most experienced seamen.

On Saturday a messenger was sent with the ensigns of the most honourable order of the Bath to Robert Gunning, his Majesty's Ambassador at the Court of Petersburgh, which was lately conferred on him by his Majesty.

July 3. It is said the Parliament will meet at the time they are prorogued to, sit a short time, and then be dissolved; and that the election of a new Parliament will be finished before New Year's Day, when the new Parliament will commence their first session.

We are informed that Lord Stormont is not recalled from his Ambassy at the Court of France, his Lordship having only obtained leave to come over on his own private affairs, and will return thither within two months.

We hear the following changes are intended to take place in the law, viz. Lord Mansfield to retire with a pension of 6000 l. per annum; Sir Fletcher Norton is to be created a Peer and Chief Justice of England; Mr. Thurlow succeeds Sir Fletcher Norton as Speaker of the House of Commons and Chief Justice in Eyre; Mr. Wedderburn is to be appointed Attorney, and Mr. Wallace Solicitor General.

An extract of a letter from the Hague says, "Cash was seldom known so scarce in Holland as at present; a very trifling sum has been negociating for some weeks past for the Empress of Russia, which, though on a very beneficial footing to the subscribers, fills very slowly."

Extract of a Letter from Cracow, June 18.

"We have just received advice here from Guesna, that the Prussian troops in that city have seized the treasure which was in the Cathedral, amounting to several hundred thousand ducats, and stripped the tomb of St. Adelbent, which was plated over with silver by King Sigismund III. They have likewise removed those exquisite gates to the Church, which were made of Corinthian brass, and formerly belonging to the monastery at Corsinna, in Taurica Chersonesus, but were brought to Guesna by Bolesleaus II. This step of Prussia is beheld with much astonishment."

Some letters from Warsaw mention, that it is thought his Polish Majesty will soon retire to the Court of Petersburgh.

Extract of a Letter from Hamburgh, June 24.

"When his Prussian Majesty reviewed his troops at Marienburgh, the Magistrates of Dantzic dispatched two Deputies to compliment him on his safe arrival, and to petition him about a reconciliation with their city. At their arrival they were introduced to him upon the field of review, and as long as they were complimenting he appeared very gracious to them, but as soon as they began to petition, he immediately gave them the sign to retire.

"They write from Thorne, that they expect, with terror, to hear his Prussian Majesty's last resolution, as that must fix the fate of their city, and oblige the inhabitants to take the oath of allegiance to him, as they can find no protection from the King of Poland, nor any assistance from the other powers of Europe.

"We learn from the frontiers of Turkey, that the inhabitants of Bulgaria destroy their own houses and corn fields, and fly towards Constantinople, that their effects may not fall into the hands of the Russians."

A correspondent, in a tour this week through the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk, Essex, and part of Hertfordshire, informs us, that the late rains have been of infinite service to the crops of corn; and that there is the finest prospect of the largest crops of wheat and barley in each of those countries ever remembered.

The Russians and Turks have both lately published Memorials, accusing each other for their Obstinacy in not giving up certain Points towards fixing a Peace. The above Courts differ as greatly in their Accounts of the Behaviour of the respective Ministers at the Congress. The Russians in their Memorial say, That on their Part the Congress and Treaties were managed with the utmost Reason, Temper, and Christian Calmness; but that the Turks were obstinate, impatient, and full of Passion, which were the principal Reasons for breaking off the Negociations. While the Turks assert, that several Sittings were held, and the Time passed in reciprocal Discussions; but that ten Days before the Expiration of the Armistice, the Sieur Obrescow became more inflexible than usual, and without abating a single Article of what he had demanded at the Commencement of the Negociation, he added thereto certain Propositions equally oppressive and imperious.

"This Afternoon Lord Sandwich, and several other Persons of Distinction, arrived here in one of the Royal Yatchs from Portsmouth; his Lordship has just landed, and was saluted by all the Ships in the Harbour. To-morrow he will take a View of the Shipping, to see that every Thing is in a proper Condition; all the Stores are likewise to be examined by his Lordship, and other Lords of the Admiralty."

July 6. By letters from Paris we learn, that the reform of 24,000 infantry, made in the year 1771, is ordered to be set aside, and directions given for the several regiments to be compleated to their full complement. The same measures are likewise observed in respect of the cavalry and houshold troops. The Abbe de Terray has, it is said, remonstrated strongly against this step, and insists that a further reduction should take place instead of an augmentation.

It is currently reported, that Mr. Povonal has accepted the government of New-England, at the strong solicitations of Administration, from principles the most praise-worthy, viz. that of restoring unanimity and harmony between our most gracious Sovereign and that loyal People.

Lord Dartmouth has appointed Capt. Roberts to go on an embassy to some of the Indian tribes on the Continent of North America, in order to settle a very valuable branch of commerce.

It is a melancholy consideration, that the linen and woollen manufactures of Great-Britain and Ireland are both on the decline, and our national debt on the encrease; the first of those manufactures having decreased at least five eights between March 1771 and March 1773, and the latter almost one third within the above period.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, July 4.

"This morning sailed from Spithead the Ocean man of war, with Admiral Spry on board, and the following ships under his command for the Bay, viz. the Barfleur, the Kent, the Terrible, the Resolution, and the Triumph."

Extract of a Letter from Leghorn, June 3.

"A French ship belonging to Marseilles is just arrived here from the Archipelago, and brings certain advice, that the Russian squadron had attacked the island of Candia, and at last taken it entirely from the Turks, who made an obstinate resistance for three weeks; when most of their people being killed, the rest surrendered. The Russians took a great number of cannon, vast quantities of ammunition, and a considerable treasure in the island."

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, July 1.

"Advices from the army of Field Marshal Count Romanzow, confirm the several accounts of the successes against the Turks; and add, that a plan had been formed by Count Romanzow to make himself master of the province of Bessarabia, which he has effected, and taken possession of Bialogrod, the capital, and the two towns of Kilia Nova, and Killia Vecchia, at the mouth of the Danube."

They write from Riga, that fresh supplies of Shipwrights are daily arriving there, and that the building and repairing of ships go on with the greatest assiduity.

Some letters from Thorne say, his Prussian Majesty is expected there in a very short time.

The present Pope is one of the most striking examples of œconomy ever known amongst the Potentates of Europe, allowing himself daily for his private table no more than seven paoli, or three shillings and six-pence English money.

From Turin we hear, that the Ambassadors from France and Spain to that Court will shortly be recalled.

The Spanish ships of war, which are said lately to have sailed from Europe to South-America, with troops and stores, are supposed to be intended to put that part of the world into a proper state to resist the natives of Chili, who have lately gained some advantages over the Spaniards.

Extract of a Letter from Jassy, in Moldavia, June 18.

"The late successes of the grand army of Russia against the Turks have occasioned such a contempt of the Ottoman power, that a large body, amounting to 14,000 Russian foot, under the command of General Suwarow, had like to have been all put to the sword; and as it was, not above 5000 escaped, the rest being all killed, or taken prisoners. The circumstance was as follows: General Suwarow, with his army, had pursued a large body of the Turks from Brachsehow, in Wallachia, who retired towards the the province of Bessarabia. In many little skirmishes which happened between the advanced guards of the Russians, and the rear guard of the Turks, the former had greatly the advantage. These slight affairs lasted till the Turks were advanced to the banks of the Pruth, where they encamped themselves in a very advantageous situation, about twenty leagues below this city, near to the town of Soczow. Here they waited, in order to receive the Muscovites, who soon came up and encamped on the banks of the Pruth, about three miles to the westward of the Turks. On the first night of the Russians encampment, the Turks attacked them in their very tents, weary as they were with a tedious march; and despising the power of the Turks, they kept very little guard, as they too fatally found. The havock began immediately; and, as it was unexpected, the Russians made little resistance, and were slaughtered in heaps; but about 5000, with the General, escaped to this city; the rest were mostly killed, or drowned in the Pruth. Some were taken prisoners, amongst whom are several officers of distinction."

July 7. A great commercial company begin now to find, that they have been wrong in their calculations with respect to what sums of money they should want. The computation they had made of the sale of their teas, and upon which they laid great stress, are found to have been too sanguine, as the sale in no degree equals their expectations. They want another loan, and without this it will be impossible for their affairs to be disentangled.

Instead of selling 7500 chests of tea at the last sale, as the Directors reckoned upon, it is well known that they did not dispose of more than 2000.---Hence arises the deficiency of the 200,000 l. which they will want next month.

A letter from Petersburgh says, "Though the repeated declarations which have passed between our Court and those of Stockholm and Copenhagen have given us the strongest assurances of peace and friendship, yet, in imitation of these two Powers, our Court has resolved to send a fleet of observation to the Baltic. This fleet is to consist of fifteen ships of the line, and frigates, and will be commanded by Admiral Baschalle.

Extract of a Letter from Venice, June 10.

"Four Russian ships of the line, with two frigates and an armed polacre, have just arrived here from the grand fleet under Count Orlow, at the isle of Chios, with six small Turkish vessels very richly laden, which have been publicly sold here for 300,000 sequins. The Commodore of this fleet, as soon as he arrived, demanded an audience of the Doge, which was immediately granted, and the next day the Senate was called together; but the result of its considerations, or the real intent of its being called, is not publicly known; however, it is conjectured, that some pleasing proposal has been made to the Republic from the Empress of Russia, as the Russians are much caressed and taken notice of."

July 8. Yesterday there was a levee at St. James's, at which the principal Officers of State, Foreign Ministers, &c. were present.

After the levee was over a council was held, at which his Grace the Duke of Ancaster, Earls of Gower, Rochford, Hertford, &c. assisted.

Orders were sent on Tuesday to Portsmouth for several other ships to sail immediately, in order to join the fleet which is under the command of Admiral Spry, who is sailed for the Bay of Biscay, to watch the motions of the French and Spaniards.

Extract of a Letter from Cadiz, June 12.

"The people here are thrown into the greatest consternation by the melancholy accounts that are daily received from Manilla, in South America, of our friends being inhumanly murdered by the Chilesians, Sengles, &c. who have driven and destroyed all the Spaniards out of their settlements in that part of the world, and seized upon all their property; so that many here, besides losing their friends, will be great sufferers. Those Spaniards who are left alive are fled to some of the French islands, till they can get assistance from their native country. The city of Baldivia is in possession of the Chilesians, who there murdered men, women, and children, nay, they murdered the priest at the altar, and the ladies that had taken shelter in the churches shared the same fate. Orders are come from Madrid for a considerable fleet which lie here to take on board a regiment of soldiers, and to sail immediately to South-America, to revenge the injuries done their countrymen, and if possible to extirpate those inhuman wretches from off the face of the earth."

Extract of a Letter from Dantzic, June 26.

"The Empress of Russia interests herself much in favour of the liberties of this city against the arbitrary views of the King of Prussia. The Count de Golowkin, her Imperial Majesty's Minister, has been long engaged in conferences with the Prussian Commissary, respecting the settling of the rights, privileges, and liberties of the city on their ancient establishment, and likewise in settling the rates of custom at the port of Dantzic, and the custom-house of Westerdeep, which was farmed to the French by the King of Prussia, who has returned them the money already received, retracted the deed, and restored Westerdeep, with its contingences, to the Magistrates of Dantzic. However, he insists upon these articles: That he shall have a garrison of 5000 men, which the citizens must maintain; that they shall pay towards the new walls which are now raising round the suburbs of Alstat, Rechstat, and Voorstat; that an appeal in all criminal cases must be made to him; and that all the vessels coming down the Vistula to Lublin or Dantzic, shall pay a certain tax to him, as an acknowledgment of sovereignty."

Extract of a Letter from Copenhagen, July 1.

"The dispute respecting the sole sovereignty of the Duchy of Holstein, between the King of Denmark and the Grand Duke of Russia, is far from being settled, as has been reported. On the contrary, her Imperial Majesty of Russia has detached 10,000 Veteran troops from the main body of her standing army, which have already arrived in Holstein in support of the Grand Duke's claim. The department of war in this city have ordered the regiments of Holstein to be embodied immediately, and likewise Prince Frederick's regiment of horse, with two others, to march into the Duchy."

July 9. The Turks complain of the great havock lately made among their troops near Babahdag, as contrary to all the laws of war. The mine, say they, which committed this havock, must have been dug during the armistice. From hence they infer, that the Russians never entered into the negociation for a peace with sincerity, but made use of that pretext only to draw them into a snare, and so entrap them to their destruction. The fact, however, so far as it is at present known, stands thus: A number of the Russians had passed the Danube, and entrenched themselves near Babahdag; a body of 15,000 Turks was sent to dislodge them. As soon as they approached the Russian entrenchment, the mine was sprung, and the whole corps, dreadful to relate! in one infernal blast instantly blown to atoms. It is the loss of his troops in this manner that chagrins the Grand Signor.

Some politicians have pretended to be at a loss how to reconcile the contradictory advices of the different successes of the Russians and Turks. Of late, indeed, all accounts join in attributing victory to the Russians. Whenever it has happened otherwise, and the Dutch Gazettes have said that the Ottomans were beat, while advices of a contrary nature were pretended to be received from Constantinople, the mystery for the most part consisted in those

The original of these advices was always cooked up in a letter at Versailles, and by order of the Ministry published in the Paris Gazette, the character of which, as it had been purposely set up to serve the Court, has ever been, that it is the best written and least to be credited of any News-paper in Europe.

The King of Denmark, in order to keep pace with a tyrannical Monarch of the north, has imposed a new duty of tonnage on all ships passing the sound.

Extract of a Letter from Toulon, June 16.

"The naval armament, which has for some time been fitting out here, is now compleatly finished. It consists of eighteen ships of the line, from 90 to 50 guns, ten frigates, four sloops, two bombs, and a fire-ship, besides some gallies and transports. Most of the ships have their full complement of men on board, with provisions for four months, and are fit to put to sea at the shortest notice. What is the intention of equipping such a fleet, is publicly unknown, and various conjectures are formed respecting it; but the most probable opinion is, that the armament is intended to aid the Turks against the Russians in the Mediterranean."

It is said that commissions have been received here, within these ten day's to the amount of 120,000 l. for goods, &c. proper for the American trade.

On Tuesday last the President and Governors of the Radcliffe Infirmary at Oxford held their Anniversary Meeting, when an excellent Sermon on the Occasion was preached at St. Mary's Church, by the Lord Bishop of Chester: In the Course of the Service were introduced a grand Te Deum and Anthems, and in the Evening the favourite Oratorio of Judas Maccabæus, for the Benefit of the Infirmary in the Theatre, under the Direction of Dr. Hayes, Professor of Music. The Whole of which was performed to the general Satisfaction of the Auditors: And Yesterday Morning the Right Hon. Frederick Lord North, attended in Procession by his Vice-Chancellor, the Heads of Houses, Doctors, Proctors, Nobility, the Right Rev. the Bishops, &c. in their respective Robes, took his Seat in the Theatre, as Chancellor of the University; upon the entering of which he was ushered in by a Band of Music with a grand spirited Overture; which ended, Convocation was opened by the Chancellor. Immediately after an Ode, written by the learned and Rev. Dr. Wheeler, and set to Music by Dr. Hayes, was performed by a very numerous and excellent Band, led by the celebrated Sig. Giardini, under the Conduct of the Professor, to a crouded and brilliant Audience; which, if we may judge from the general Plaudit given to it, does great Honour to both the worthy and ingenious Authors. Many Persons, according to the usual Forms upon these Occasions, were admitted to their Degrees by the Chancellor. An excellent Latin Oration was also spoken on this Day, in Commemoration of Founders and Benefactors.---In short, the respectable Characters who honoured the University with their Presence at this Juncture, the Variety of its academical Entertainments, and the Joy which appears in every Countenance, all conspire to reflect a lasting Honour upon our ALMA MATER.

On Sunday last the Honourable JOHN PENN, Esq; one of the Proprietaries and Governors in Chief of this Province, and his Lady, arrived in this City from New-York. They were met at Bristol by a great Number of Gentlemen and Ladies, who accompanied them to Town.----The next Day, the Governor, being attended by the Council, the Supreme Judges, the Mayor, Recorder and Commonalty, of this City, and several Gentlemen of the Clergy, and preceded by the Sheriff and his Officers, went in Procession to the Court-House, where his Commission for the Government of this Province, and the Counties of New-Castle, Kent and Sussex, on Delaware, was published, with the usual Solemnities, in the Presence of a very great Concourse of People.

We hear that, immediately after the Governor's Commission was published, the Corporation of the City met, in order to draw up and present an Address of Congratulation to him, on his safe Return to settle in the Province, when a Member of the Board informed them, that he was authorized to mention it as his Honour's Wish, "that the Ceremony of written Addresses might be dispensed with, as entirely needless on the present Occasion, for that having received so many substantial and repeated Proofs of Regard from all Denominations of People, as well during his former Administration, as when the Affairs of his Family made it lately necessary for him to depart for a short Time to England, he could not now doubt of the Continuance of their Good-will towards him."

SAMUEL JONES, about 18 years of age, born in England, is a short well set fellow, pretty much freckled and marked with the small-pox, has light coloured straight hair, and is remarkable for having a number of small blue spots in his forehead, much resembling those occasioned by gunpowder; had on, when he went away, a lead coloured velvet coat and jacket, a pair of buckskin breeches, somewhat too large for him, a good country made wool hat, about half worn, a pair of new shoes, with square silver plated buckles. LONDON, June 24.

THIS day being Midſummer-day, there was a very numerous and reſpectable appearance of the Livery of London, in Common-hall aſſembled, for the annual purpoſe of electing Sheriffs for the city of London, and county of Middleſex, for the enſuing year.

The Lord Mayor, attended by the Sheriffs, Aldermen Stephenſon, Wilkes, Bull, Sawbridge, Halifax, and Plomer, together with the city officers, aſcended the Huſtings about one o'clock, when the Hall being opened by the Common Cryer, Mr. Recorder came forward, and in a truly conſtitutional ſpeech, informed the Livery of the great importance of this their annual election, "that it was, in a great meaſure, from a proper choice of Sheriffs, their anceſtors were enabled to ſecure to them their rights and privileges; he therefore ſaid, he had no doubt but that they would be actuated by the ſame conſtitutional principles on the preſent occaſion."

After the Recorder had retired, M. B. Allen, Eſq; reminded the Livery, that laſt year he was forbid by the then Recorder, to introduce any other matter on this day but that relative to the election; he therefore called upon the preſent Recorder for his opinion on that matter.

The Recorder immediately got up, and delivered it as his opinion, that the Livery had it in their choice to debate on any matter, relative to their rights, they thought proper.

Having obtained this ſanction, the Captain then propoſed that inſtructions (which he read) ſhould be given the four Members of Parliament for the city of London, to ſupport, next ſeſſion of Parliament, the motion of Alderman Sawbridge in favour of annual elections.

This motion being duly put and ſeconded, was carried. After which the Deputy Town Clerk (in the abſence of Sir James Hodges) acquainted the Livery of the Lord Mayor, &c. preſenting their laſt petition to the King, agreeable to their order, and at the ſame time read to them his Majeſty's anſwer; when the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, &c. retired.

The Common Serjeant then put up the ſeveral Aldermen who have not paſſed the office of Sheriff, with thoſe who have been drank to, together with Stephen Sayre, Eſq. as candidates for the Shrievalty for the enſuing year; when the majority of hands were determined by the Sheriffs to be in favour of William Plomer, Alderman and Bricklayer, and Stephen Sayre, Eſq; Frame-work knitter.

The Offices of Chamberlain, Bridge-Maſters, Ale Conners, Auditors, &c were then ſeverally put up; when the ſeveral gentlemen at preſent in the occupation of ſuch offices, were re-choſen, except two for the Auditorſhip (this being the ſecond year, and conſequently two removable by charter) when Mr. Nicholſon and Mr. Piper were declared elected in their ſtead.

The buſineſs of the day being thus concluded on, Mr. Sayre, one of the new elected Sheriffs, came forward, and addreſſed the Livery in the following ſpeech.

"GENTLEMEN of the LIVERY.

IT is impoſſible for me to expreſs the feelings of gratitude which predominate in my breaſt upon the preſent occaſion. The honour you have done me calls for a return, which a life entirely devoted to your ſervices only can make. I deem myſelf more highly favoured, becauſe I am well convinced, that nothing under Heaven could have induced you to elect me into the office of Sheriff, but an opinion of my independance, and ſincere attachment to the public cauſe. I am independant; I will continue ſo. Upon public grounds only I preſumed to ſolicit your favour: Upon public grounds only I will ſtudy to deſerve it. It ſhall be the labour of my life to convince you, that in veſting me with an important truſt, you have not made an improper choice. I will ſtrain every nerve in combating our common foe; I will labour aſſiduouſly to ſtop the progreſs of Deſpotiſm; at leaſt I will, by a vigorous exertion of thoſe powers with which you have entruſted me, prevent its making any inroads into this great, this opulent, this free and independant City."

Extract of a Letter from Peterſburgh, June 16.

"Her Imperial Majeſty has juſt diſpatched orders to the Ruſſian Commandant General at Aſtracan, in the kingdom of that name, and to the Governor of Circaſſian Tartary, at the city of Terki, to raiſe immediately a body of 10,000 men; they are to be diſciplined for ſome time where they are raiſed, and are then to march for Peterſburgh, where they are to be embodied, and from thence are to march as a reinforcement to Marſhal Romanzow's army. The Aſtracan and Circaſſian Tartars are eſteemed very good ſoldiers."

Letters from Spain and Sicily give an account, that they have the greateſt proſpect of a plentiful harveſt in both thoſe countries.

June 26. The vacant blue ribbons, we hear, are intended for the Dukes of Richmond and Devonſhire, if thoſe Noblemen will condeſcend to aſk for them; it being always cuſtomary, it ſeems, for thoſe, who wiſh to be inveſted with that honour, to aſk for it of the Sovereign, before they can be inſtalled.

A correſpondent laments, that no ſooner does a gentleman of fair character and independant principles offer his ſervices to the public, and ſtand forth as a real friend to the people, than every invidious time-ſerving ſcoundrel thinks himſelf at liberty to throw dirt in his face. Upon this noble principle the patriotic Sheriff, Sir Watkin Lewes, hath faithfully ſerved the community, and for his extraordinary zeal and ſervices he has been groſly abuſed.

The Eaſt-India regulating bill is the joint production of Lord North, and Adjutant Grey Cooper. Neither the Solicitor, nor the Attorney General, were conſulted. Lord Mansfield, being aſked by the miniſter, how he would act with regard to it in the Houſe of Lords, declared, if he went thither, he muſt expoſe and throw it out, as being contrary to the moſt obvious principles of law and the conſtitution. Lord Shelburne, and his party, however, ſupported it in both Houſes, becauſe they wanted places. Were it not that Lord N. declared he would reſign, and throw the miniſtry into confuſion, the bill would have been rejected; and it was ſuffered to paſs only upon promiſe of its not being carried into execution, and of having another ſubſtituted it its place next ſeſſion. The public may depend upon this as fact.

Accounts lately received by the Spaniſh Court from South-America, mention the progreſs ſtill making by the rebellious natives, and that ſeveral towns on the Southern coaſt, beſides thoſe already mentioned, have been deſtroyed by them, with many of the inhabitants, as well Indians as Spaniards.

Sir Charles Frederick has taken great umbrage at the ſuppoſed indignity offered to him in not being invited, as well as Lord Townſhend and General Conway, to partake of the King's entertainment at Portſmouth, and it is ſaid he will reſign as ſoon as the Parliament is prorogued.

STOCKHOLM, June 15.

THE King hath changed the days for giving audience to his people; he will not have any more than on Wednesdays in the afternoon, and in his apartments, and all those, who have not some reasonable request to make, will be sent away. The abuse which some persons have made of these audiences, by coming to demand alms, with a petition in their hand, or by haranguing his Majesty about whimsical and ridiculous projects, hath occasioned this new arrangement.

Turin, June 7. The King, accompanied by the Prince of Piedmont and the Duke de Chablais, set out this day for Alexandria, Villa Franca and Tortona, in order to view the fortifications.

Besides the measures which the King hath taken to revive plenty in his states, which have been exhausted by too great an exportation, his Majesty hath just given orders, that all the necessitous men, women or children, be employed to work on his account, on the roads and other public works, in the environs of this capital.

The men and women receive each day, besides nourishment, five-pence; and children, capable of carrying a basket, two-pence and six deniers, exclusive of lodging, which is provided for them in the place where they work.

Those persons who are unable to work, the King hath caused to retire into our hospitals, and no person is permitted to ask alms without a ticket from the office of Police. Foreigners must return to their own homes, and necessaries will be given them for the journey. Two Clergymen are also appointed by order of his Majesty to instruct the poor in the principles of religion, on Sundays and Holidays.

LONDON, July 1.

Extract of a Letter from Warsaw, June 12.

"We have received accounts from Moldavia, that the young Prince Peter Repnin, Colonel of a regiment of Foot, and brother to the late Russian Ambassador here of that name, received orders to pass the Danube with 2000 men, attack a strong Turkish post, and, if possible, to drive the enemy out of it; but he found the Turks much more numerous than they were represented. They surrounded him immediately, and when he found he could not master them, he endeavoured to regain his ships, which he did with amazing valour, but unfortunately the ship he was in was stranded, and the Turks in consequence attacked him; he took all the Officers with him, and fought with the greatest bravery, till he had received three wounds, and fell down with the loss of so much blood, and thus was made a prisoner by the Turks. He was immediately carried to the Grand Visir's army. This affair cost the Russians 300 men. It is said some of the Officers will have to answer for their conduct to Count Romanzow."

July 2. The following circumstance reflects great honour on his Majesty: When he arrived at Portsmouth he observed, that all the cooks employed were Frenchmen, and turning to Lord Sandwich, who was at this time with him, said, "Surely I am not in my own dominions, for they are all French people about me; this is a sight I did not expect to see." On Friday, when he dined on board Lord Sandwich's yacht, he was highly pleased with his dinner; Lord Sandwich then acquainted his Majesty, it was dressed by an English cook, which served for a whet to his appetite, for he eat much more than he had done any of the preceding days, and declared, that he thought no cooks could dress a dinner like an Englishman. How praise-worthy would it be in our nobility, and people of fortune, to emulate the conduct of his Majesty in this particular; for by preferring their countrymen to foreigners they would not only render this nation happy, but prevent many extravagancies, and escape many impositions.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, June 21.

"The Duke de Lausan, who is but 26 years of age, and the only heir of the House of Biron, having fallen in love with an English lady, he followed her to England, where he has been for a long time. His Uncle, the Marshal, was in hopes he would have returned for the review of the French guards, as he has a company; but being disappointed, was obliged to make an apology to the King for his absence. The Marshal and the Duke de Gontault, having wrote to the Duke de Lausan, reproached him in such terms as his conduct deserved, but he returned no other answer, than sending his resignation as Captain, signifying to them at the same time, that he did not care a f--t for the French nation, and that he would live and die among the English."

July 3. Yesterday Lord North, and several of the foreign Ministers and Noblemen, dined with the West-India Merchants, at a superb entertainment at the London Tavern: Success to trade was the general toast.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, June 30.

"When the King was walking round the ramparts of this garrison, he expressed a desire to go down the High-street, but was persuaded from it by Lord Robert Bertie, who told him, that there was too great a croud of people about him, and that, besides, neither his carriage or guards were at hand. His Majesty replied, "What need have I of guards, whilst so many of my faithful subjects are round me?" His Majesty's great condescension and behaviour, during his stay among us, has entirely won the hearts of all his subjects here, and he must, from the tour, experience in some degree what it is to reign over a brave and free people."

The most distinguished character of the young Emperor of Germany is, his attention to the wants of his fellow creatures; to relieve them has been his chiefest care; he has been seen to drop a tear more than once at their distresses, when told him, and has been remarkably assiduous in finding out and putting the means in execution to extricate them from the burthen of their miseries.

This day a Common Hall was held at Guildhall for the election of a Sheriff of this city, &c. in the room of Alderman Plomer, who was chosen with Mr. Sayre, on Midsummer Day last, but has since paid his fine, to be excused serving the said office, when all the Aldermen who have not yet served Sheriff were put up, as well as the Gentlemen who were drank to in former Mayoralties: Hardly any hands were held up for either of them, except a few for Mr. Kirkman. After which, William Lee, Esq; Citizen and Haberdasher, a known and approved friend of liberty, was nominated; when almost every hand in the Hall was lifted up in his favour, and he was declared duly elected almost unanimously.

Mr. Lee then came forward, and in a genteel speech thanked the Livery for their choice of him; assuring them, that they may rely on the utmost exertion of his abilities in support of the rights and liberties of his Fellow-citizens.

Previous to the election, the Recorder addressed himself to the Livery on the subject of the meeting, and recommended moderation and tranquility in their proceedings.

July 6. Letters from Stockholm, dated the 25th of May, advise, that the Sieur Troil, son of the late Archbishop of Upsal, is on his way to that city, after having made a voyage to Iceland, in company with Mr. Banks. He asserts, that the language now spoken in the above island is absolutely the same with that which is preserved in the Swedish books, written in the eighth century, which, he says, is a proof of the great connection that island has always had with the kingdom of Sweden.

It is confidently asserted, that the Court of Directors of the East-India Company are determined to take up this year into their service no more than twelve ships, as they find the great hurt it has been to the Company, sending out such a number of ships yearly; whereby they are vastly overstocked with goods, which are absolutely spoiling, some having lain in their warehouses for seven years, particularly tea.

A letter from Edinburgh mentions, that some Gentlemen of that city have been so very successful in their attempts to improve the cultivation of madder, that there is great reason to believe they will, in a few seasons, be able to bring it to as great perfection as that imported from Holland.

July 8. It is impossible to describe the confusion in trade created by the last act respecting the gold coin. The India regulating bill, infamous as it is, has not more iniquity, nor will it be attended with more inconvenience, than that which impowers any indiscriminate persons to cut in two such guineas as may be offered them, and which appear to want more weight than should be allowed for reasonable wear; the not ascertaining the proportion of that reasonable wear is beyond measure big with mischief; the honest and industrious are left a prey to avarice, malice and villainy; the city of London is already thrown out of every line of regularity in business, and in a week or two the confusion will be general throughout the kingdom.

The above act alluded to is confidently reported to have been fabricated by direction of the Treasury Board, to have been brought into the Lower House by Lord North's Secretary, and to have passed the Commons and Lords, and finally to have received the King's assent, without being in the least noticed or attended to by any Member of either Senatorial Assembly.

What sort of Members of Parliament must those be, who now express their amazement and concern at the act for preventing the currency of clipped money? And yet it is certain that three-fourths of both Houses are equally astonished and concerned that so unfair, so iniquitous, and so injurious a bill, should ever have passed into a law.

Yesterday came on to be tried at Westminster-hall, before Lord Mansfield, by a special jury, Issues directed out of Chancery, in which Mr. Conner, the nephew and administrator of the late General Stanwix, was plaintiff, and Mrs. Sowle, the mother of Mrs. Stanwix, the General's wife, defendant; to try 1st, Whether Mrs. Stanwix survived the General, her husband? 2d, Whether Miss Stanwix survived the General, her father? When, upon principles laid down by Lord Mansfield, the Jury found both the issues for the petitioner; by which verdict his right to the personal estate of the General is established against the several claims of Mrs. Sowle, the representative of Mrs. Stanwix, to a third of the estate; and Mr. Holmes, the Administrator to Miss Stanwix, to the whole.--The General, his wife, and daughter, were shipwrecked about 6 years ago in their passage from Dublin to Chester. The claim of Mrs. Sowle was founded on the presumption, that her daughter survived the General, her husband; and the claim of Mr. Holmes, on the contradictory presumptions, that the General survived his wife, and that Miss Stanwix survived her father in the wreck. A rule was made upon the trial, to put an end to the several suits in Chancery, and to settle every thing between the contending parties.

A Correspondent remarks, that if the late act for regulating the circulation of the gold coin is strictly adhered to, as some people have already begun to do, the greatest part of the guineas now current will be stopt; the act only provides for a reasonable allowance being made for the wear, and it is an established rule in the gold trade, that a guinea will not lose, by fair wear, above 8d. in 100 years, and two-thirds of the guineas now current in London, and almost all in the country, want above 1s.

We are informed, that Lord Dartmouth has nominated Col. George Mercer to be Governor of the new colony on the Ohio, which should be called Pittsylvania. Our correspondent observes, that this act is a strong proof of his Lordship's strict justice, as well as of his good judgment. Colonel Mercer has not only great public merit to recommend him, but few men possess so many amiable qualities, either as a friend or as a gentleman.----He is a native of Virginia, and received a very liberal education at the College of Williamsburgh; he afterwards studied the law, and though he might have lived very independantly and quietly on the estate which his father had portioned him with, yet he preferred the hazardous service of his country to a life of ease; he accepted of a military commission at the commencement of the late war, and served in different ranks, till the regiment he belonged to was reduced; he also represented a county in the General Assembly of that province. In 1763 he came over to England to solicit for a confirmation of grants of land for the Ohio Company, in the very spot where the new government is to be established; and as a public testimony of his zealous and disinterested services, the Governor, Council and Assembly, of Virginia, recommended him to his Majesty. When the famous Stamp-act passed, the late Mr. Grenville appointed him Stamp-master in Virginia, in which difficult office he acquitted himself with so much diligence and firmness, as justly to entitle him to the entire approbation of Parliament and Administration; and though he was at the head of the list of those gentlemen who were recommended by the House of Commons to his Majesty, for some adequate employment, when the act was repealed, yet he is the only one of them who has not been provided for. All these circumstances, so highly recommendatory of him, with a character perfectly unexceptionable, seem only to have operated as a bar to his preferment; till Lord Dartmouth (who has always been distinguishable for his upright and equitable conduct) rewarded his long neglected merit. The propriety of his choice redounds much to his Lordship's wisdom, as well as to his honour, for Colonel Mercer's perfect knowledge of that country, his thorough acquaintance of the American laws, and the well known candour, integrity, and firmness of his mind (exclusive of his other fair pretensions) render him better qualified for that appointment than almost any other man.

CHARLES-TOWN (in South-Carolina) August 17.

In the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY,

Dies Saturni, the 4th Day of August, 1773.

ORDERED,

THAT the following PROCEEDINGS of this House be printed and made public.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

To the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the said Province.

The ADDRESS of the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY.

May it please your Honour,

WE, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Upper House of Assembly, with an ardent Desire to discharge our Duty to our most gracious Sovereign, and to the Public, do beg Leave to address your Honour upon the State of the Treasury, which we have taken into our most serious Consideration.

We have made an Enquiry into this truly momentous Subject with that Candour and Temper of Mind, which ought to take Place in all Deliberations, tending to promote the Public Good.

The Result of our Enquiries, we are truly sorry to say, has impressed upon us Ideas of the most alarming Nature, no less alarming, than the certain Prospect, that the Public Treasury must very shortly stop Payment, unless the most speedy and most effectual Steps are taken to prevent so fatal an Event; the Consequences of which must not only overwhelm the Public with Distress at Home, but give almost a mortal Wound to its Credit Abroad.

Although we are not the immediate Representatives of the People, yet we are among the Guardians of the Public; we therefore cannot, with a criminal Silence, see the Interests and the Honour of this Province suffer a cruel Wound by the Failure of the Public Treasury; the Credit of which has always been, and is as yet, at least, equal to the Credit of any in America.

Upon examining the Treasury Accounts, it appeared to this House, that on the first Day of June last, the Sum of £127,674 was due on Account of Public Duties, of which large Sum the Treasurers could not procure one Shilling: That only the small Sum of £10,000 was actually in the Treasury, issuable upon the many and large Demands to which it is liable, and that various Sums, to the Amount of £158,476, had at divers Times been drawn out of the Treasury, by Virtue of Laws directing such Sums to be advanced out of any of the Funds, which Sums were afterwards to be replaced by a General Tax, as is usual in such Cases.

The trading Part of this Province may now sincerely lament, that a Tax Bill has not been passed into a Law since the year 1769. If Tax Bills had been passed since that Time, they would as usual have replaced in the Treasury that large Sum of £158,476, and by that Means at this Day, the Sum of £168,476 would actually be in the Treasury, issuable and ready, as it ought to be, to answer every legal Demand; in such a Case, no Failure in the Treasury could have been now apprehended, and therefore there would not have been any Necessity to compel the Payment of the Money due to the Treasury on Account of Duties.

In Justice as well to the Public as to this House, we do assure your Honour, that at all Times we have been ready to give our Concurrence to any Tax Bill which could be of Public Benefit, framed upon the fundamental Principles of the Constitution; and this House does likewise assure your Honour, that if we had given our Concurrence to any Tax Bill, which has been brought up to us since the Year 1769, we should have surrendered our Rights as Legislators, and should thereby have betrayed that Constitution, by which we are bound to regulate our Proceedings.

Possessed as we are of the tender Sentiments of Humanity, and unwilling to create Distress to any Part of the Community, yet, anxious for the public Credit, we cannot but recur to the indispensible Duties of our Station. We do therefore most humbly address your Honour, that you will be pleased to order the Attorney-General to compel those Persons who have been longest indebted for Public Duties forthwith to pay into the Public Treasury the Sum of £50,000, and that your Honour at the same Time will be pleased to order the Attorney-General, that after the Expiration of three Months, he shall cause the Remainder of the Sum owing for Duties on the First Day of June last, to be paid as soon as may be possible.

By Order of the House,

EGERTON LEIGH.

In the Upper-House of Assembly, the 14th Day of August, 1773.

Sir Egerton Leigh reported, That this House had presented their Address to his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and that his Honour had been pleased to make the following ANSWER to it.

Honourable Gentlemen,

I SHALL without Loss of Time give such Directions as may prevent the alarming Event relative to the Public Treasury, mentioned in your Address, and this I shall take Care to do in such Manner, and at such Periods, as shall appear to me to be effectually conducive to that End, which I hope will create no Distress to any Part of the Community, as I intend it shall occasion as few Inconveniences to the Persons concerned, as can consist with the Public Service.

August 14, 1773. WILLIAM BULL.

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to take the Answer of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to the Address of this House into Consideration, and that Mr. Stuart, Mr. Chief Justice, and Mr. William Henry Drayton, be a Committee for that Purpose.

Ordered, That the said Committee do sit immediately.

Mr. Drayton reported from the Committee to consider of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor's Answer to the Address of this House, that they were ready to make their Report when the House would be pleased to receive the same.

Resolved, That the Report be received immediately; Mr. Drayton read the Report, and delivered it in at the Clerk's Table, where it was again read, and a Debate thereupon arose; and a Motion being made that the House do now adjourn.

The House adjourned till Five o'Clock this Afternoon.

Dies Saturni, 14th August, 1773. P. M.

The House proceeded to take into Consideration, the Answer of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to the Address of this House, and after some Time spent in Debate thereupon, the House unanimously came to the following RESOLUTIONS:

Resolved, That it is not only the undoubted Right, but it is the indispensible Duty of this House, at all Times, to examine into the State of the Public Treasury, and to address, counsel and advise the Governor in every Matter relative thereto, which shall appear to this House to be conducive to the Public Credit and Honour, and to the Safety and Protection of the Public Treasure.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this House, that the Address of this House to his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, contains Matter of the utmost Importance to the Public, and is at the same Time conceived in Terms both dutiful and respectful to his Honour.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this House, that the Advice contained in the said Address is in Substance wholesome, beneficial and expedient.

Resolved, That this House will, under every Discouragement, loyally, dutifully, and humbly render their Counsel and Advice when the Credit of the Country is at Stake; and the rather, as one Branch of the Legislature has hitherto omitted to interpose its provident Care, to avert the fatal Consequences arising from the present declining State of Public Credit.

Resolved, That this House is actuated by the most sincere and disinterested Motives of Loyalty and Duty to the King, and of the most tender Affection and Regard to the lasting Happiness and Welfare of this Country.

MESSAGE from the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over his Majesty's Province of SOUTH-CAROLINA, to the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY, on Wednesday, August 11, 1773.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen,

AS you acquainted me Yesterday, that you were met and ready to proceed on Business, as I have nothing in Command from his Majesty, or any new Matter at present to lay before the General Assembly, I think proper to decline the Public Formality of opening the Session with a Speech: I therefore, by Message, now propound to you in general, to take under Consideration such Matters as are conducive to the Public Welfare, and have been recommended by me upon former Occasions, but have unhappily not been brought to Perfection. The only Matter which I think it my Duty particularly to mention to you is, that the making speedy Provision for the Public Debts, which by an Intermission of Taxes for several Years are now greatly accumulated, and have a Tendency to lessen the Public Credit, cannot fail to appear to you to be very just and necessary: I therefore earnestly desire you to make effectual Provision for the same accordingly.

WILLIAM BULL.

The ASSEMBLY'S ANSWER.

May it please your Honour,

IN Answer to your Honour's Message of Yesterday, this House beg Leave to acquaint your Honour, that they are ready and willing to enter immediately upon the Consideration of all Matters conducive to the Public Welfare, whether such as have been heretofore recommended by your Honour, or such as may occur to themselves; and they are particularly desirous, and will, as soon as they are allowed to do it consistently with the Preservation of the Rights of the People, apply themselves with all possible Speed, to make ample Provision for all the Public Debts, which is so earnestly recommended in your Honour's Message; and likewise to grant a Sum that may be thought necessary to put this Town and Harbour into some Posture of Defence, that it may not become a Prey to any Invader.

This House are persuaded, your Honour cannot but think they did every Thing in their Power, at their last Meeting, to forward the Payment of the Public Debts, as in a very few Days after their Sitting a Tax-Bill, including all such Demands on the Province as had been already liquidated and confirmed by former Assemblies, was prepared and sent by them to the Council, and Committees were besides appointed to examine and settle all other Accounts against the Public, up to the 31st of December last: These too would have been amply provided for in another Tax-Bill, before the House would have thought of desiring a Recess, notwithstanding the very inconvenient Season at which they were then sitting; but chagrined at finding the Council had rejected the Tax-Bill they had already sent them, and having the greatest Reason to believe that any longer Attendance would be altogether fruitless and unserviceable to the Public, they were reduced to the Necessity of asking your Honour for Leave to adjourn.

That no farther Time may be lost in preparing and sending up to his Majesty's Council, Tax-Bill after Tax-Bill, to be rendered ineffectual, by their rejecting them, we beg Leave with all Deference and Humility to your Honour, as his Majesty's Representative, and at the same Time, with a Firmness becoming a free and united People, founded on the deepest Sense of the Duty they owe to their Constituents, to assure your Honour, that this House will never insert the Clause recommended in the Instruction, dated 14th April, 1770, in any Money-Bill whatever, and we trust no Assembly will ever be found in this Province so totally regardless of the most essential Rights of the People as to do so, or in short, to suffer themselves to be influenced, either directly or indirectly, by any Ministerial Instruction, in the originating and framing of any such Bills: But, we beg Leave to assure your Honour, that the Moment the House have Reason to think this unconstitutional Obstruction to Public Business is removed, they will, with the greatest Chearfulneſs, ſet about framing and preparing another Tax-Bill, till then they cannot but deem the Attempt altogether needleſs.

By Order of the Houſe,
RAWLINS LOWNDES, Speaker.

PROVIDENCE, Auguſt 21.

On Monday laſt a girl of about 12 years of age was detected in paſſing counterfeit dollars. Her father was immediately apprehended, and committed to goal. In his pocket-book, which he found means to ſecret while in cuſtody of the officer, a counterfeit New-York bill was found. Another perſon has ſince been committed to goal, and it is expected further diſcoveries will be made. The dollars are dated 1770, and ſo badly executed, that the fraud may be eaſily diſcovered.

NEW-YORK, September 2.

Mr. Timothy Soper, the Mate of Capt. Moore, informs, that on the 28th of April laſt, the ſloop-----Capt. Fairly, of this place, put into Hiſpaniola in diſtreſs, that the Spaniards immediately ſeized the veſſel and cargoe, and after plundering the Captain and his people, carried them to the priſon, and put them in irons, where they all remain in cloſe confinement, except the above Timothy Soper, who was then Capt. Fairly's Mate, and made his eſcape the 4th of Auguſt.

On Friday laſt died, aged 23, Miſs Suſanna Finley, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Finley, late Preſident of Naſſau-College, New-Jerſey; ſhe was truly amiable in her manners, and uncommonly reſigned and exemplary in her death.

It is an incident moſt memorable and peculiar, that the citizens of London ſhould this year have made choice of both Sheriffs from this continent, namely Mr. Stephen Sayre, a native of Long-Iſland, in this province, and Dr. William Lee, who was born in Virginia, and is the perſon who has ſo eminently diſtinguiſhed himſelf as a political writer, under the ſignature of Junius Americanus. Indeed the Liverymen have ever manifeſted the ſteadieſt ſupport of all thoſe, who approve themſelves heartily devoted to their principles.

A ſcouting party of the Oneida Indians, about three weeks ago, returned from an attack of ſome of their enemies to the ſouthward, either Choctaws or Cherokees; they brought ſix priſoners with them, not one of which has been adopted by the inhabitants of their Caſtle, ſo of courſe they are to be roaſted alive, agreeable to the Indian cuſtom, and they have ſent notice of their intention to the ſeveral towns of the Five Nations, and invited them to be preſent at this horrible cataſtrophe. When theſe feroſe Bipeds take any of their enemies in action, it is an invariable rule to give entertainments to their friends far and near, and to render their Gaude the more brilliant, their priſoners are brought forth, and put to death in the abovementioned excruciating manner, provided none of the families of that caſtle, from whence the warriors departed, agree to adopt them, a circumſtance that generally happens, but on the above occaſion they were all inexorable.

PHILADELPHIA, September 8.

On Thurſday, the 5th of Auguſt laſt, departed this Life, at Alexandria, in Virginia, Mrs. MARY THOM, and on the Sabbath following, the Rev. Mr. WILLIAM THOM. They both died of an ardent Fever, and were decently interred in the Burial-ground of the Preſbyterians in that Town.--------Mr. Thom, the Son of a worthy Clergyman, early diſcovered an extenſive Memory, a quick Penetration, and a ſtrong Judgment. Theſe happy Talents were improved by a liberal Education. His Zeal for Religion engaged him to enter into the ſacred Office of the Miniſtry in the 21ſt Year of his Age. He adorned that exalted Station. His public Performances were received with Approbation by all, who heard them. He explained and enforced the moſt important Truths of Chriſtianity. A lively Imagination enabled him to paint Vice in the moſt ſtriking Colours, and to repreſent Piety and Virtue in the moſt amiable Light. He had a happy Talent of communicating his Thoughts. His Language was flowery, yet obvious to the meaneſt Capacity. Senſible of the Importance of religious Truths, he ſpoke with that Warmth, which engaged the Attention, and affected the Hearts of his Hearers.-----He was equally worthy of Eſteem in private as in public Life. He well deſerved the Character of a ſincere Chriſtian,---of an affectionate and dutiful Son,---of a generous Friend,---and of a chearful and agreeable Companion. Free from all Auſterity and Moroſeneſs, he cultivated a laudable Charity to thoſe, who differed from him in religious Sentiments. Many Congregations invited him to become their Paſtor, but the Proſpect of extenſive Uſefulneſs engaged him to accept the unanimous Invitation of the People of Alexandria. He lived happy in the Love and Eſteem of Perſons of all religious Denominations in that Place, and to their inexpreſſible Sorrow was removed by Death, in the 23d Year of his Age, in the Bloom of Youth, and in the Midſt of growing Uſefulneſs.

Captain Jones, from London, on the 10th ult. in Lat. 36: 57, Long. 59: 51, ſpoke the Ship Jamaica, Captain Wilſon, from Jamaica for Briſtol, out 6 Weeks; 14th, in Lat. 38: 9, Long. 64: 54, ſpoke a Snow, Captain Himſeff, from Maryland for Cork; 19th, in Lat. 38: 13, Long. 70: 8, ſpoke a Brig, from New-York for Newfoundland; and on the 24th, in Lat. 35: 45, Long. 72: 25, he ſpoke the Ship Friendſhip, Captain Burk, from Jamaica for Liverpool, out 4 Weeks, all well.

Captain Correy, from Dublin, on the 12th ult. in Lat. 31, Long. 67: 30, ſpoke a Brig, Captain Woodhouſe, from New-York for Jamaica, out 13 Days; the ſame Day ſpoke the Brig Lively, Captain Hall, from Jamaica for Liverpool, out 20 Days; and on the 20th, in Lat. 38: 13, Long. 68: 30, he ſpoke a Sloop, Captain Drew, from this Port for London, out 5 Days, all well.

Captain Simmons is arrived at Madeira from this Port.

By the Ship Richard Penn, Captain ALL, and the Ship Mary and Elizabeth, Captain MESNARD, arrived here from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

WARSAW, June 19.

SEVERAL letters, which have been received here, aſſert, that the Courts of Vienna and Berlin are taking great pains to bring about a peace between Ruſſia and the Porte; for which purpoſe they have cauſed new propoſitions to be made to the Grand Signor, by their reſpective Miniſters at Conſtantinople.

June 23. It is ſaid that the Auſtrians and Pruſſians have agreed upon a plan for enlarging their poſſeſſions in this kingdom.

Strawinſki, and ſix other conſpirators, have been arreſted by the Ruſſians on the frontiers of Courland.

Hamburgh, July 2. By letters from Peterſburgh there is advice, that the whole village of Vieux-Ladoga is burnt down; and the fire at Moſcow, according to ſome accounts, has deſtroyed three thouſand houſes.

Conſtantinople, June 10. The Grand Signor has at laſt got rid of the moſt dangerous enemy which the Porte has had for a long time. The famous Ali-Bey was defeated and made priſoner the 7th of laſt month. His march from Syria was not diſturbed till he was within a ſmall diſtance of Cairo, at the head of 13,000 men, when Aboudaab, after having aſſembled the Divan, and got a fetfa, or ſentence of proſcription againſt him, went out to meet him with 60,000 men. The two armies coming within ſight of each other on a Friday, Aboudaab intended to defer the engagement till the next day, as Friday is always a day of prayer among the Muſſulmen; but Ali-Bey, not being ſo ſcrupulous, would give them battle, and had the misfortune to have all his troops cut to peices except 500; and himſelf and three other Beys, who were of his party, were made priſoners, after having received ſeveral wounds. He was brought to Cairo, and carried before the Divan, which was aſſembled the ſame day; he threw himſelf at the feet of Aboudaab, and begged his life, calling him his ſon. The conqueror anſwered, that he ſhould not hurt him; but that his life depended on the Grand Signor. A courier was diſpatched to the Porte, from whence orders were immediately ſent to behead that famous rebel. It is ſaid there were 400 Ruſſians, Albanians, or Greeks, in his army, who were all cut to pieces, except 20 made priſoners. Twenty pieces of cannon were found in the camp, with which the above-mentioned 400 men kept a very briſk fire during the action. The ſon and nephew of Chiek Daher, who were with Ali-Bey, together with four other Beys, were killed. Four Ruſſian ſhips appeared about the ſame time before Alexandria, and were preparing to attack that place; but they deſiſted from the attempt as ſoon as they heard of Ali-Bey's defeat.

Warſaw, June 20. The trial of the priſoners, charged with the attempt to aſſaſſinate the King, has made ſeveral important diſcoveries, for which reaſon the examination of thoſe priſoners is kept ſecret. It is whiſpered here, that ſeveral high perſonages of Europe were the authors of the plot againſt the King. Six Poliſh noblemen, who fled when the trial began, were ſecured by the Ruſſians, and brought hither; and ſince that time the Sieur Zembruky, who was one of the commiſſioners of that inquiſition, was diſcovered to have been a chief actor in the plot againſt his Majeſty, and was immediately committed to priſon. A new committee of enquiry has been ſince appointed, and ſeveral of the higheſt families here are ſuſpected to have been concerned in the conſpiracy, even the family of R-----; and both the Marſhals of the new national Confederacy have declared, that they will reſign their charges in caſe any further enquiry be made. The affair occaſions an uncommon confuſion.

Vienna, June 26. The advices which we receive from the armies of the belligerant powers are quite contradictory. The Turks pretend that the two corps of Ruſſians, one of which had paſſed the Danube at Ruſtzchuck, and the other at Dudracan, have been obliged to repaſs that river, with conſiderable loſs; whilſt the Ruſſians poſitively aſſert the contrary.

Paris, July 2. Mr. Burbeck, the Agent of England, at the port of Marſeilles, hath received orders from his Court to cauſe the Engliſh frigate to retire from its ſtation in the Mediterranean, where it has lain to make obſervations ſince the armament was begun at Toulon. This news has entirely removed the fears of our merchants.

Copenhagen, June 26. The King iſſued an Ordinance on the 17th of this Month, importing, that all Proprietors of Houſes, Eſtates, Stocks, and other Poſſeſſions, ſhall pay annually, till further Orders, Four per Cent. of ſuch Property. The Inhabitants of the Iſland of Bornholm are to pay but Two per Cent.

Marſeilles, June 20. We have juſt received intelligence from Madrid, that his Moſt Catholic Majeſty has iſſued orders to preſs one man out of five of all his ſubjects, without diſtinction, immediately, as two powerful armies are wanted; one in the Spaniſh ſettlements in America, and the other to act againſt the States of Barbary, who have united againſt the Spaniards, and brought an army of 140,000 men into the field.

The laſt Letters from Smyrna mention, that univerſal Tranquility reigns there, through the Care of the Muſelim, who maintains his Authority by very rigid Juſtice. The 15th of May there was a Quarrel among the Janiſſaries, which coſt ſome of them their Lives. The Muſelim cauſed ſeveral of them to be taken up, and finding ſome of them had been guilty both of Murder and Theft, he cauſed them to be either ſtrangled or baniſhed.

Leghorn, June 18. A Dutch veſſel, juſt arrived in our road, has brought intelligence of hoſtilities being commenced between the Ruſſians and the French in the Levant. The affair was as follows: Some French merchant ſhips, convoyed by a French man of war, met with two Ruſſian frigates, the Commander of whom ſent word to the French, that they ſhould give an account of their cargoe, or he would ſend on board ſome officers to examine them. The French Commander made anſwer, that he would neither ſubmit to the one nor the other; and the Ruſſian Officer ſent again, informing the Frenchman, that in caſe he refuſed to ſuffer his ſhips to be examined, he would look upon them as allies to the Porte, and immediately attack them. The French Commander anſwered, that he was prepared to receive them; upon which a battle enſued, when the Frenchman, after loſing about ſeventy of his men, was obliged to retire, and make for the Turkiſh coaſt; but the Turks, taking them for Ruſſians, fired upon them, ſo that before they were known they loſt twenty more of their men, and the veſſels received great damage. This affair happened about the end of May, and the news of the conſequences of it are daily expected.

Vienna, June 26. The laſt letters from Bohemia bring moſt alarming accounts of the great damages done by the ſtorms, accompanied with hail, in that kingdom.

The Prince of Gonzague, who has reſided in this city for ſix years paſt, in great want, waiting the iſſue of his cauſe with reſpect to his Principality of Caſtiglione, which was ſequeſtered during the war about the Spaniſh Succeſſion, has ceded his right to the Houſe of Auſtria for 300,000 florins.

Conſtantinople, June 3. Deules Guery, ſucceſſor of Crim Guery, and late Khan of the Tartars of Crimea, arrived at Bujukdere, the 27th of laſt month, accompanied by ſeven Sultans, a great number of Murſes, and two thouſand Tartars, entirely devoted to him. The Grand Signor has entruſted him with the command of the army deſtined to re-conquer Crimea. The Caimakan, Mufti, Reis-Effendi, Oſman and Ibrahim-Effendi, have paid him a viſit at Bujukdere, and yeſterday that Prince had a conference with the Caimakan and the Reis-Effendi, and received on that occaſion his laſt inſtructions in quality of Seraſkier. He is to embark immediately with his retinue, on board the ſhips of the third diviſion.

The Grand Viſir having received advice that the Ruſſians had gained an advantage over our troops near Babadagh, detached three Baſhaws, with a part of his army, who have not only driven the Ruſſians from Babadagh, but have killed or made priſoners the greateſt part of them, before they were able to repaſs the Danube.

Warſaw, June 26. The confederacy has publiſhed a manifeſto, which has been ſent to all the Grods: By this manifeſto, all who have not yet acceded to the confederacy, formed under the authority and protection of the three allied powers, are enjoined to ſign it, and to renounce the confederacy of Bar, within the term of twelve weeks for thoſe who are out of the kingdom, and ſix weeks for thoſe who are preſent, under pain of loſing their eſtates and dignities.

According to letters from Moldavia of the 14th of this month, the Ruſſian grand army, commanded by Field Marſhal Count de Romanzow, was on the point of paſſing the Danube. It conſiſts of between 80 and 90,000 men. The army of Prince Dolgorucki, which has hitherto remained in the Ukraine and New-Servia, is already aſſembled, to be ready to march on the firſt notice, to defend Crimea againſt the enterpriſes which the Turks might form againſt that Peninſula; part of that army is alſo deſtined to beſiege Oczacow.

Warſaw, June 30. The Clergy have offered to the Delegation to pay annually to the Republic 100,000 crowns, by way of free gift; but it is thought the offer will not be accepted, until they make the ſum amount to 100,000 ducats. It is pretended that the ſittings of the Delegates, which were to have been reſumed the 3d of July next, will remain ſuſpended to the end of the ſame month.

Vienna, June 26. They write from Temeſwar, that they were poſitively informed that Field Marſhal Count de Romanzow was actually on the other ſide of the Danube; that a Baſhaw had aſſured, that the Grand Viſir had aſſembled all the troops of the neighbouring provinces about his camp, the ſituation of which was extremely advantageous; and that as the two armies had drawn pretty near each other, a general engagement was hourly expected; that the Baſhaw further ſaid, that with 2000 men he had a few days before come to blows on the North ſide of the Danube, under Orſova, with a body of Ruſſians, which he had routed, and taken the commander, and ſeven other officers, priſoners.

LONDON.

July 10. On Wedneſday night Lieut. Gen. Gage, late Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's forces in North-America, arrived in town from Quebec; yeſterday he attended the Levee at St. James's, and had a conference with his Majeſty.

July 13. They write from Paris, that the Omphala and Zephire, two French ſloops of war, have been taken by the Emperor of Morocco's Corſairs, in the Mediterranean, and carried into Larache.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, June 29.

"Letters received on the 26th ult. from Peterſburgh, give the following account of an incurſion made by the Don Coſſacks, under Donzeiche Ombo, into the territories of the Circaſſian and Coban Tartars, who are under the dominion of the Grand Signor. On the beginning of May the above General, underſtanding that the war had again broke out between the Turks and Ruſſians, ſeized the opportunity of revenging ſome cruelties which the Coban and Circaſſian Tartars had, during the laſt war, committed in the country of the Don Coſſacks. In conſequence of this reſolution he ſummoned all the Hords, who are roving tribes, as well as thoſe who lived in ſmall towns or villages, and collecting an army of 60,000 men, divided them into three bodies, which were to croſs the river Don at different places, and were all to meet at Teuki, the capital of the Circaſſian Tartary. They immediately began their march, the main body under the command of Donzeiche Ombo, which conſiſted of 30,000 men, marched within three leagues of Aſoph, and met with little reſiſtance in croſſing the Don; however, they were frequently impeded in their march by flying parties of the Koeban Tartars. But at laſt they arrived within ſight of the walls of Teuki, which were defended by ſome iron cannon, and 3000 regular Turkiſh troops. The other detachments of the Coſſacks army, amounting to 15,000 men each, and commanded by the two ſons of the General Donzeiche Ombo, now arrived, and brought with them ſeveral hundred priſoners, together with a great number of black cattle and ſheep. The ſeveral parties were now joined into one body, and it was reſolved to attack the town immediately, which reſolution was carried into execution. The Coſſacks were repeatedly beat off, but at length prevailed, and they entered the place in their uſual way, killing and deſtroying every perſon they ſaw or met with, and put about 20,000 people to the ſword, amongſt whom were 3000 Turks. The reſt of the inhabitants, who did not fly, were all made priſoners, the houſes were moſt of them burnt to the ground. They returned in a ſhort time to their own country, with upwards of 40,000 priſoners, men, women and children, and likewiſe 60,000 head of black cattle, and near 200,000 ſheep."

Aboudaab, who has defeated Ali-Bey, is the eldeſt ſon of that warrior, but having long ſince diſcovered a very refractory ſpirit, had fled from his father, and joined the Turks.

Extract of a letter from Paris, July 2.

"The 17th of laſt month a ſtorm, which fell in the neighbourhood of Belford, and which laſted but twelve minutes, deſtroyed all the hopes of the inhabitants of a plentiful harveſt. The leaſt hail-ſtones that fell weighed four or five ounces, and many were taken up which weighed half a pound. Several perſons were wounded, and many of the ſmaller ſort of cattle killed, while the larger ſort were ſo affrighted and diſperſed, that it was a long while before they could be diſcovered, when many of them were found much hurt. All the glaſs expoſed to the ſtorm was broken, and great damage done to many houſes.

"The ſame day a like ſtorm cauſed great ravages at Sarguemines, and twenty-nine neighbouring towns of Lorraine, and extended likewiſe over ſix diſtricts of the principality of Naſſau."

Saturday the insurance on shipping and merchandize, bound to the Mediterranean, bore an advance of 2 1-half per cent. and before night it rose to near 4 l.

A correspondent from Boulogne asserts, that more than three-score carcases of beef are weekly imported there from England, and that most of the provision consumed on that coast is English. If so there needs no other account for the enhanced price thereof in our markets.

July 15. We hear a grant of 5000 acres of land, near Lake Champlain, on the back of the New-York settlements, in North-America, has lately been made to Colonel Ord, of the train of artillery.

"We are informed that Sir Joseph Yorke, Ambassador from Great-Britain at this Republic, has just presented a memorial to the States-General, requesting of their High Mightinesses, in the name of the King, his master, that they would give the necessary orders for placing lights during the night, in the summer as well as winter, in the light-houses, which are fixed on both the banks of the Meuse, at the mouth of that river, in order to prevent the accidents to which English and other ships are exposed, when the weather is dark or cloudy. This memorial hath been referred to commissaries; and as its object will not be attended with much expence, it is believed that the request of Sir Joseph Yorke will be complied with."

A letter from Marseilles, dated June 20, says, "We learn from Alexandria, that Ali-Bey died in prison at Cairo, on the 5th ult. of the wounds he received in the late engagement, and that after his death his head was cut off, and sent to Constantinople."

A letter from Hesse-Cassel, dated June 20, mentions the following melancholy affair to have happened near that city. As the regiment of the Hereditary Prince were on their march thither, a Captain made his company halt, and drew up around him the grenadiers, who loved him as their father, because he treated them as his children. He then made a short speech to them concerning their station, and earnestly exhorted them always to discharge their duty: "Above all (added he) never desert, let what will happen to you." Having said this, he next distributed all the money he had amongst them, then drew a pistol from the holster of his saddle, discharged it into his breast, and fell dead on the spot. It is not known to what cause this rash action is to be attributed, especially as the Captain was not less remarkable for mildness of manners and integrity of heart, than for possessing a lively temper and social disposition.

His Majesty has ordered a large sum of money to be distributed among the poor inhabitants of Kew and Richmond, as an alleviation of their distresses.

It is confidently asserted, that the Duke and Dutchess of Gloucester will shortly set out for the German Spa, and before their return will pay a visit to the Queen of Denmark at Zell; it is also said that this journey is undertaken on the opinion of his physicians, as the only means of restoring the Duke to a good state of health.

Notwithstanding the currency of the report of Lord North's intended resignation, we are well assured, that Nobleman will not retire without having more honours conferred upon him; money, it is said, he does not want; which no doubt will be readily credited.

The Queen of Denmark, since she has resided at Hanover, by her affable behaviour, has gained the universal esteem of the Hanoverians; and they declare that to serve her, they would not hesitate to lay down their lives. These were always the words of the people of Denmark, and yet they could tamely submit to see her used in the most inhuman, indecent, and villainous manner imaginable.

A meeting, it is said, will be held in a few days, of some of the principal monied men in the city, in order to consider of some plan to obviate the difficulties at present experienced, on account of the late act for preventing the diminishing the coin.

A gentleman just returned from Chester informs us, that it is computed upwards of ten thousand pounds were carried back from the annual Fair held there a short time since, on account of the Dealers having refused to take any gold the least deficient in point of weight.

"The Empress has at last effectually concluded, what will give her the greatest advantages of the Ottomans in the present war, and what she has long been aiming at; that is an offensive and defensive treaty with the Persians against the Turks; the tenor of which treaty is as follows: That the Grand Signor of Turkey, in consequence of some late distractions in Persia, having taken the advantage to seize the provinces of Curdistan and Chusistan, together with many other places of consequence, which he had occasioned to be fortified, and garrisoned with Turkish troops, and compelling the inhabitants to change their worship in point of religion, from the sect of Ali, which the Persians in general profess, to that of the Sunnis, or Turkish sect; with many other outrages and innovations, contrary to all the treaties made for the safety and peace of the Persian Empire. The Sophi, with the advice and consent of the Divan, has resolved to join his forces with the Empress of the Muscovites, who is engaged in a just war against the Turks. That the Empress of Russia shall furnish a body of 10,000 foot, and 4000 horse, with arms, ammunition, &c. and a train of artillery, immediately to assist in driving the Turks from Curdistan, Chusistan, Hamadan, and all the other places, which they now so unjustly possess in the Empire of Persia, and when this shall be effected to pursue the Turks into the heart of their own country, even to the city of Constantinople, which both Muscovites and Persians bind themselves under a most solemn oath to endeavour the destruction of. That the Sophi of Persia, in consequence of the above-mentioned assistance of the Empress, shall fully yeild up to the Russian Empire for ever all right and title to the provinces of Shirvan and Dagistan, together with the city of Tanki, and all the country now in possession of the Muscovites in Gilan, or the ancient Hyrcania, and all the contiguous coasts of the Caspian sea; and that the sole right of navigating that sea shall be given up to the Russians, unless they permit some Persian vessels to trade thereon, for which permission they are to pay a tax to Russia.

"In consequence of this last article her Imperial Majesty obliges herself to act in concert with Persia, in bridling the incursions of the Usbeck Tartars into Chorassan, or Bœtrea, the Indians into Candahor, and the Cossacks into Mazenderan. These articles being fixed and ratified, the Empress is preparing with the utmost industry to put them into execution."

"I have the great pleasure to acquaint you, that it is the general opinion of people here, that we shall soon be made happy, by having our most gracious Queen restored to the love and favour of her Royal consort. The King has discovered the frauds and impositions practised to induce him to drive her into exile; and it is not doubted but the authors of her misfortunes will, at a proper opportunity, be brought to receive that punishment they most justly deserve. I have had the honour of waiting on her Majesty at Zell with letters from some of her sincere friends here, who have laboured daily to bring about a reconciliation, by convincing his Majesty how much he has been deceived. She received me very cordially, and in a few hours returned by me answers to them; soon after which some of the grandest apartments in the Royal palace were ordered to be fitted up.

I hope in my next that I shall have an opportunity of acquainting you of the Queen's safe arrival here, for I am to-morrow morning to set out for Zell again, with a packet of letters for her Majesty, and therefore have not time to write any more, than that I am, Dear Sir, your most obedient, &c."

"We have the greatest reason here to think, that the finances of the Empress of Russia are at a very low ebb, as she has been for some time past negociating loans in almost every commercial city in Holland and Germany, but has met with very indifferent success, though the advantages promised are very extensive. A Russian Nobleman is now here negociating a loan of one hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling, but the merchants subscribe very slowly; the general deficiency of cash over all Europe, and the stagnation of trade and commerce, are the reasons. Those gentlemen, who have cash, do not chuse to part with it on speculation, and 'tis thought the Russian nobleman must depart unsuccessful."

July, 16. By the last accounts from Madrid we learn, that his Catholic Majesty has resolved to have all his subjects on the sea coasts numbered, as he believes the late returns for raising every fifth man, for the purpose of manning his ships of war, have been unfaithfully made up, and that he has given directions for immediately enforcing an ordinance of last year, in order to ascertain the exact number of foreigners residing in his dominions. The design of this order is to prevent his native subjects from assuming the quality of foreigners, with a view of enjoying certain privileges, granted by treaty.

The Abbe de Terray, Comptroller-General of the French Finances, has been lately appointed Abbot of Bayeux, worth 60,000 livres per ann. This is looked upon by many as a forerunner of his resignation, and consequently a total dissolution of the hated administration of the Duc de Aiguillon.

The last letters from Warsaw advise, that the Commissioners, appointed to draw up the articles of the treaty of partition, have been searching the records of the Chancery of Poland, in order to find the original receipt, by which the late King of Prussia, father of his present Prussian Majesty, renounced for ever, for himself and his descendants, all pretensions to Prussian Poland; but as they have not yet been able to find it, it is suspected to have been clandestinely taken away, to deprive the Republic of the benefit of it.

The Queen of Denmark makes a point of seeing every English Lady or Gentleman that travels through Zell, her Majesty's present residence, to whom she behaves in the most friendly and complaisant manner imaginable. July 17. Letters from Cronstadt inform, that the Russian fleet, of twelve ships of the line and eight frigates, which was supposed to be destined as a fleet of observation in the Baltic, has received orders to join the Danish fleet, of sixteen ships of the line and nine frigates, which the Empress has taken into her service, and both to proceed to the Mediterranean. Thus is the Empress of Russia sending a fleet of forty-five sail to the Mediterranean, which no one pretends to assign any reason for, only it is suggested that some distant knowledge of this affair has occasioned the arrival of so many Couriers at Stockholm from a certain Southern Court, whose Monarch, perhaps, has the greatest reason to hinder these northern guests from coming so near his dominions in the Mediterranean; however this may be, this step is very remarkable, and seems to prognosticate matters of the greatest importance.

"A fresh treaty is on the tapis, between the courts of France and Lisbon, which, if all the articles are ratified and observed, will turn out greatly to the advantage of the former. The principal articles in her favour are: That the French shall be allowed to sell Negroes in all the Portuguese settlements in America. That they shall be allowed an open trade to all the ports belonging to Portugal in Africa, and the East-Indies, and that they shall import the products of France to Rio Janeiro, in the Brazils, duty free: With many other considerable advantages. But it is expected that some other powers of Europe will oppose this junction."

On Monday next the great cause between Alexander Campbell, Esq; and William Hall, Esq; will be tried before Lord Mansfield, by a special jury at the sittings in Guildhall. This cause will determine the constitutional rights of a British subject residing in our colonies in America, as it will in its event shew how far the prerogative of the crown extends over these countries, and whether a tax, in its consequences necessarily fatal to the liberties of England, imposed on the inhabitants of the new ceded islands in the West-Indies, can be supported in law.

"As the seaport of the colony so much depends on credit, think how this sudden stoppage of it must effect it, and what bad consequences must arise therefrom; most of the bills drawn last year, as well as this, are or will be protested, and but few of the Drawers able to pay the principal, and the damages are so great, it must involve many in ruin: Scarce a day but houses, slaves or plantations, are sold by execution: At present I suppose upwards of sixty plantations are under execution to be sold; and to the distress, there is likely to be very short crops both of sugar and coffee, and the price of coffee fallen in holland near 50 per cent. and the runaway Negroes continue to be very troublesome. Baroone, one of the Chiefs, lately attacked a post, and killed a Lieutenant and 25 Men, not one escaped. There is a battalion of State Troops arrived here, and several detachments are sent to different parts of the rivers; what service they may be I cannot say, but the expence of them, with 400 prime slaves, freed to act against the runaways, will be very great; and the taxes already are so heavy, that many of the inhabitants are scarce able to pay them. It is proposed to lay double duties and tonnage on all English vessels trading here, to help pay the public charges, which there is no doubt will take place. The State Troops begin to be very sickly, two Colonels and a number of Privates are already dead, and the sickly time just coming on."

NEWPORT, September 6.

Last Thursday sailed for Halifax, his Majesty's ship Swan, commanded by James Ayscough, Esq; whose conduct as a commander and a gentleman, while on this station, has done honour to his profession: All the other Officers, and common men, behaved with such civility and decorum, as to give them an equal title to our compliments and regards, according to their respective stations. None of the foregoing is meant to be paid to Capt. Ayscough or his company, considered as sent here to enforce the late detestable acts of Parliament, or as Custom-House officers, but merely as gentlemen like officers, &c. in the naval department.

"If the Success of the Russian Arms should not meet with a very severe Check, the City of Constantinople will, in all Probability, be in their Hands before the Winter, especially if the active Emperor should do, as it is shrewdly suspected he will, take a Part in the War this Summer, by aiming at a Recovery of those Territories on the Side of Belgrade, which formerly belonged to the House of Austria, but had been wrested from it by the Turks. The Disposition of his Forces on that Side lead us to a Suspicion of his hostile Intents; in this Case good bye to the august Ottoman Empire. The Spaniards have their Hands full with the Moors in Africa, and the Defections in Chili will call for all the Strength they can well spare at such a Distance to reduce them again under their Yoke. These are fortunate Incidents for Old England, and for the Interests of her present Ministers, who would be firm enough in their Posts if they could agree among themselves, but the Bedford Connection will not be contented with the Share of Power they have hitherto enjoyed; grasping at the whole, they will risk what they have got; a little Time will determine whether Lord Gower, or Lord Rockingham, is to be at the Head of the Treasury, for, to keep out the former, the King's Advisers seem much more disposed to accept of the latter, with his numerous Friends, who are far more eligible to his Majesty, as all the principal old Revolution Families will come into Administration if the Marquis should be preferred, a Circumstance between you and I that our good King is not indifferent about; he has declared himself to this Effect, and I do not know any Thing that would put his Majesty into better Humour. Mr. Cornwall refused the Chancellorship of the Exchequer, but he is to be Speaker in Norton's Room, who is to be Lord Chief Justice. We are apprehensive the French are still about to play us a Trick; Spry is sent out with a Fleet, and another Squadron is ready for the Admiralty's Orders. If the French go to Sea, it will be to embarrass the Russians, by which we shall commence a naval War, but more of this by the August Packet, when possibly I shall give you the Operations of Romanzow, in his nearer Approach to ancient Byzantium; what immense Treasures will the savage Scythians revel in when they again sack that superb City."

PHILADELPHIA, September 15.

On Monday next the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province meets here.

On Monday last the Merchants of this City waited on the Honourable RICHARD PENN, Esq; our late worthy Governor, and presented the following Address:

To the Honourable RICHARD PENN, Esq.

SIR,

INFLUENCED solely by a Sense of the Justice due to your Public Character, and highly pleased with the Moderation, Wisdom and Humanity, of your late Administration, the Merchants of the City of Philadelphia beg Leave to return you their unfeigned Thanks, for the Protection and particular Attention you have invariably shewn to the Trade of this Port, which has equalled the most sanguine Expectations they had formed, on your first Appointment to the Government.

Knowing the Integrity and Uprightness by which your Conduct, as Chief Magistrate, has been directed, we must consider your unexpected Removal from that Station, as unfortunate to the People over whom you have presided, with so much Reputation to yourself, and Happiness to them.

Under your Administration we have enjoyed the Blessings of Peace, Harmony and Unanimity, the natural Consequences of that Candour and Love of Freedom, which so strongly mark your Character; and our Regret at your quitting this important Station would be the greater, had any other succeeded you than a Descendant of the same worthy Family, who, by his former mild and equal Administration, has recommended himself to the Affection and Esteem of the good People of this Province.

Your declared Intention of residing amongst us, is peculiarly pleasing, as we are confident your social Virtues and private Character will secure the Continuance of an affectionate Regard from your Fellow-citizens, as your public Merits have gained their utmost Esteem and Confidence.

To which Mr. PENN was pleased to return the following

ANSWER,

GENTLEMEN,

THIS kind and affectionate Address, from so respectable and disinterested a Body of People as the Merchants of the City of Philadelphia, is a very great Consolation to me, and gives me the highest Satisfaction that I could possibly have received in my present Situation.

Be assured, Gentlemen, I shall ever hold dear in Remembrance, these your warm Expressions towards me; and although I am so unexpectedly DEPRIVED of the Power of being serviceable to you, in a public Character, I hope, in my private Capacity, as a Fellow-citizen among you, I shall at all Times prove myself not unworthy this public Mark of your Regard and Approbation, which you have so generously conferred on me."

After which the Merchants, in a Body, attended Mr. PENN to the State-House, where an elegant Entertainment was provided, at which were present the GOVERNOR and Council, the Corporation of the City, the Clergy, the Gentlemen of the Army and Navy, with most of the Strangers, and principal Inhabitants of this City.

After Dinner the following Toasts were drank, each accompanied by the Discharge of the Artillery from the Barracks.

1. The KING.
2. The QUEEN.
3. The PRINCE of WALES and ROYAL FAMILY.
4. The Honourable THOMAS PENN, and Proprietary Family.
5. The LAND we live in.

6. Prosperity to, and Unanimity between, GREAT-BRITAIN and her COLONIES.
7. The City of PHILADELPHIA, and its COMMERCE.
8. The BRITISH NAVY.

16. General HALDIMAND.
17. DANIEL DULANY, Esquire.
18. Mr. BOURKE.
19. Sir GEORGE SAVILLE.
20. The FRIENDS of AMERICAN FREEDOM.

Under Favour of the Commanding Officer, the Company were agreeably entertained with several Pieces of Music, performed by the Band belonging to the Troops now quartered here; and the whole was conducted to the entire Satisfaction of the Merchants, who had a particular Pleasure in thus testifying their Approbation of a Gentleman, who, during his whole Administration, had shewn himself a Friend to the Trade of this Province, and who had rendered himself perfectly agreeable to them.

TO BE SOLD,

In phials at HALF a DOLLAR each,

MC. GINNIS's inimitable TINCTURE, which infallibly cures the ſcurvy in the gums in the ſpace of ten days, let it be ever ſo inveterate or long ſtanding; it effectually eradicates that naſeous complaint a ſtinking breath, generally proceeding from decayed and rotten teeth, ſcurvy of the gums, and neglect of keeping them clean. This moſt excellent tincture has never failed of giving univerſal ſatisfaction to as many as have been pleaſed to uſe it. Likewiſe a POWDER for poliſhing and giving a fine enamal to the teeth, at ONE SHILLING a paper, with printed directions how to uſe both.—What can be more uſeful or ornamental (eſpecially to the fair ſex) than a ſet of beautiful poliſhed teeth, firmly embraced by healthy and ſound gums? To enlarge on the many benefits which may be derived from the uſe of this celebrated though cheap dentifrice, is unneceſſary; thoſe who once make trial of it will ſtand in no need of any argument to perſuade them to continue it, or recommend it to their friends whoſe teeth or gums are in a ſimilar condition. The money to be returned if it does not anſwer the purpoſe propoſed, if uſed according to the directions.

N. B. The above tincture may be had at Doctor John Sullivan's, Druggiſt, in Second-ſtreet, above Arch-ſtreet; at Mr. James Gallagher's ſtore, in Front-ſtreet, the corner of Spruce-ſtreet; and at Meſſrs. William and Thomas Bradford's book-ſtore.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the reſpectable FARMERS, TRADESMEN, MECHANICS and others, Electors for the City and County of Philadelphia.

My dear Countrymen, and Fellow-citizens,

THE Time now approaching when our preſent Aſſembly will diſſolve of Courſe, and a NEW one muſt be choſen for the enſuing Year, permit me to offer ſome Conſiderations, in order to engage you to act with Spirit and Circumſpection on ſo important an Occaſion, as that of chuſing Men worthy the Truſt to repreſent you in General Aſſembly. And here pleaſe to conſider, whoever you approve by your Choice on that Day, you immediately veſt with the Power of your Properties, Lives, and (what is ſtill more valuable) the moſt ſacred Liberties and Privileges of yourſelves and your Poſterity; and whatever diſagreeable Conſequences may derive from that Quarter, through an imprudent or miſtaken Choice, you are obliged to ſuſtain, and bear with your Delegates, at leaſt for one Year, who, if they ſhould prove unfaithful to their Truſt, may ſetter and diſable you from taking your own Part in future. ONE corrupt Parliament or Aſſembly at this Period, when Corruption is predominant, may lay the Foundation for the groſſeſt Evils and Oppreſſion, which will require the Efforts of ſome Generations (if ever) to eradicate; whereas the utmoſt Vigilance and Aſſiduity of the moſt virtuous and ſenſible Men is ſcarcely ſufficient, to counterplot the deſpotic and tyrannical Schemes of a wicked and corrupt Miniſtry, whoſe Emiſſaries, or Men influenced by the ſame Spirit, are not ſcarce amongſt us.---Theſe endeavour to ingratiate themſelves into your Favour, or terrify you by their auſtere Behaviour---theſe are forward to offer you their Service as Repreſentatives---who graſp at Power, and exerciſe it with Tyranny and Oppreſſion---therefore they are, of all Men, chiefly to be rejected. When at the ſame Time Men of Merit, who have the Good and Well-being of their Country at Heart, diffident to undertake the arduous and weighty Taſk when propoſed to them, either totally reject it, or comply with Reluctance*; Inſtances of which are recent amongſt us.---If, therefore, a Gentleman is propoſed to you, who aſpires after Wealth and Power, and ſeems determined to carry his Point by direct or indirect Methods, you may aſſure yourſelves he will not ſcruple to make Merchandize of you and your Liberties for ever, rather than be diſappointed; be careful, if you ſuſpect him, to avoid him.---If the Tenor of his Life and Behaviour does not breathe forth his Attachment to the Freedom and Liberty of his Country, avoid him.

Men who would be fond of repreſenting you, not to do you real Service, but for their own Emolument, deſpiſe you; theſe ſay, "It is Time the Tradeſmen were checked"---"They take too "much upon them"---"They ought not to intermeddle in State "Affairs"---"They ought to be kept low"---"They will become "too powerful."---When Gentlemen of Character, and in Office amongſt us, can dare to expreſs themſelves to this Purport, whoſe Anceſtors, two Generations ago, were upon an Equality with ſome of the meaneſt of us, what may we expect? The laborious Farmer and Tradeſman are the moſt valuable Branch of the Community, and have for Ages been the Support and Barrier of Liberty, as their Patrimony and greateſt Riches, and, in this Caſe, are People of the firſt Conſequence. Many Threats, Reflections, Sarcaſms and Burleſques, have been thrown out againſt you this Year, on Account of the happy Choice you made laſt Election; many low Artifices have been made Uſe of to create Animoſities amongſt, and divide you, but, I have Reaſon to believe, without Effect, and that the common Cauſe of Liberty, and the Good of your Country, will animate and confirm you in Unity, and crown you with the Succeſs which your Integrity deſerves.

Every Election ſhould be conſidered as voting in a new Aſſembly. The Conſideration that ſuch or ſuch a Gentleman has repreſented us ſeveral Years, is vague in itſelf. Let us reflect what Services has he done? (for it is in vain to fill the Houſe with Cyphers.) What Meaſures has he propoſed for the Good of his Country, or what oppoſed, which were moved to their Detriment? Has his Behaviour been worthy the ſolemn Truſt repoſed in him? We need not now be altogether at a Loſs in this Enquiry; through a Majority of worthy Members, the preſent Year, we have had the Advantage of the Votes printed weekly, during the Seſſion; and therein we find ſome Grievances happily redreſſed, which entitles thoſe diſtinguiſhed Gentlemen to the higheſt Eſteem; and if ſuch will continue their Services, it is our Duty to ſupport them with all our Might. It behoves us all to fix upon reputable, upright, ſenſible (not to ſay opulent) Men, who have Penetration to diſcern betwixt the Good and the Evil, who with Spirit and Candor will promote every poſſible Meaſure for the Advantage of their Country, and as ſtrenuouſly oppoſe every Thing to the contrary; who will, upon no Account, conſent to give up or reduce the valuable Privileges heretofore granted, and intended, to the happy Province of Pennſylvania. I doubt not but you will conduct yourſelves with Spirit, Moderation and Candor, and diſplay to your Adverſaries, that Men, who in the Sweat of their Brows eat their Bread, are capable of ſound Judgment and Prudence. Having nothing more at Heart, than a fervent Deſire of promoting Peace on Earth, and good Will amongſt Men, I ſubſcribe myſelf, with my beſt Wiſhes for your preſent and future Welfare,

A CITIZEN OF PHILADELPHIA.

THE Adventurers in the VINEYARD LOTTERY are informed, that the reaſon of its not being drawn as intended at the time appointed, is owing entirely to ſeveral of the Managers being lately much out of town, on their own private buſineſs, one of whom is not yet returned; likewiſe not having received a regular account of ſome tickets in the country, which as ſoon as obtained the drawing will commence, of which notice will be given. We hope therefore the Adventurers will be kind enough to excuſe this trifling delay. Some tickets may yet be had at the uſual places, and as the ſcheme is pleaſing, and inferior to none, it is hoped it will induce others to become Adventurers, and promote ſo laudable and expenſive an undertaking, which (without doubt) if properly encouraged, and if we may judge from appearances, will anſwer expectation; and be in a ſhort time both a credit and benefit to the province, by ſtimulating numbers of Germans and others, acquainted with the cultivation of vineyards, to purſue it.

The Aſſembly of Virginia, paying due attention to a like undertaking, have generouſly granted £ 50 ſterling a year to a Gentleman there, to enable him to make a trial: Pennſylvania is ſeldom backward in encouraging laudable undertakings, a Lottery is thought the moſt eligible way, where every encourager ſtands a good chance of being a gainer.

THE Court has received, from the Field Marſhal Count de Romanzow, a continuation of the journal of the military operations as far as the 24th of May. It appears by this journal that, beſides the priſoners taken by Colonel Klitſcha, ſeveral Turkiſh families, in number 3336 perſons of both ſexes, have put themſelves under the protection of Ruſſia, and that a ſtill greater number of Chriſtians have followed their example. The Marſhal has made them paſs the Danube, and has not only left them all their effects, but has alſo aſſigned them habitations on this ſide of that river, in the conquered places. The journal then gives an account of the expedition of Major General Suwarow at Turtukay, with a detail of every thing that preceded and followed thereupon. By that expedition, General Count de Soltikow has found means to cut off all communication between Siliſtria and Ruſtſchuck with the Danube; and Major General Suwarow avails himſelf of the facility which this expedition has procured him, of ſending detachments on the other ſide of the Danube, by the mouth of the Argis.

Bologna, in Italy. The ſuppreſſion of the Jeſuits, and confiſcation of their effects, goes on here, and throughout all the eccleſiaſtical ſtate.

From the Viſtula, July 1. The ſituation of Dantzic becomes daily more critical, and people begin to fear that the mediation of Ruſſia will prove more hurtful than advantageous to it. The Sieur Reichard has juſt given the ultimatum of the King of Pruſſia, by which that city is to acknowledge the Sovereignty of that Prince over the Port of Dantzic, and Count Golowkin has at the ſame time delivered a note to the Magiſtrate, in which he declares, that this acknowledgement muſt be the baſis of the negociation with which he is charged. Whilſt this grand affair remains undetermined, the commerce of Dantzic ſuffers greatly by the changes that are introduced, for the importation of wool, from the countries acquired by the Court of Berlin, is prohibited, and none is ſuffered to be imported but from Poland. The rumour of an approaching revolution in Courland begins to ſubſide, eſpecially ſince it is known, that the Empreſs of Ruſſia conſents to the marriage which the reigning Duke propoſes to contract with a Princeſs of Germany. We hear that his choice is fallen on the Princeſs Chriſtina, of Mecklenburgh Strelitz, eldeſt ſiſter of the Queen of England.

Amſterdam, July 15. Letters from Hamburgh of the ninth of this month adviſe, that the affair between the Courts of Peterſburgh and Copenhagen concerning Holſtein, is entirely ſettled and ratified; that Denmark is to enjoy great advantages in that Duchy, but that Crown is to furniſh Ruſſia with ſeveral ſhips of war; they add, that a perfect harmony reigns among the Northern Powers.

Paris, July 9. Letters received from the King's Ambaſſador at the Porte, confirm the news of the advantages gained by the Turks over the Ruſſians. It ſeems that the Ottomans are greatly encouraged to puſh on the war with vigour, and will not conſent to any peace but on conditions more moderate than thoſe preſcribed them by the Ruſſians.

Utrecht, July 15. We have received from Conſtantinople the following detail of the ſucceſs of the Ottoman arms, dated June 9. "Dagiſtangi Ali Pacha being informed that a body of Ruſſians had paſſed the Danube two leagues above Giurgewo, in twenty-one large barques, the Pacha, who had marched with the greateſt expedition, fell ſuddenly upon the Ruſſians, and entirely diſperſed them, who took to their barques, after having great numbers killed, and leaving 600 priſoners, among whom is a brother of Prince Repnin. Of the above barques ſix were afterwards taken by ſome of the Turkiſh barques from Ruſſig, and ten others were either driven on ſhore, or very roughly handled. It is added, that the Turkiſh artillery did great execution among the Ruſſians, who were drawn up in order to cover the retreat of the above body. The Grand Viſir has cauſed a quantity of aigrettes, and an hundred purſes, to be diſtributed among his troops in the above expedition."

Copenhagen, July 6. Laſt Friday there was a numerous court, and afterwards a grand entertainment at the caſtle of Friedenſburgh; there was alſo a grand dinner of 50 covers at Prince Frederick's. To-morrow, being the birth day of the Princeſs Royal Louiſa-Auguſta, who will then enter the third year of her age, there will be an entertainment at Court.

Cologne, July 9. Some difficulties have lately ariſen, on the ſubject of the navigation on the Rhine. The Chamber of Finances of the Elector our Sovereign, has publiſhed a new regulation, which enjoins all veſſels to give in at the offices of this city, an exact account of their reſpective ladings, without ſecreting any thing, under penalty of being ſearched, and ſeverely puniſhed in caſe any fraud is diſcovered. This regulation farther ordains the paying all duties without delay or deduction, and that all the veſſels belonging to different States, navigating that river, ſhall be obliged to lade and ſail in their reſpective turns. The Elector of Mentz principally oppoſes this regulation. During the diſpute, ſeveral veſſels are detained at Bonn and Oudernach, ſo that commerce is at a ſtand, and much merchandize in danger of receiving great damage.

Stockholm, July 2. The Ruſſian Miniſter having previouſly informed the King on the part of the Empreſs his Sovereign, that a Ruſſian fleet would cruiſe this ſummer in the Baltic, to exerciſe their crews; and having requeſted, that in caſe a ſtorm ſhould oblige the ſhips of that fleet to ſeek an aſylum in the ports of this kingdom, they may be received, and all neceſſary aſſiſtance afforded them, the King hath ſent orders to all the Commandants of his ports, not only to receive ſuch ſhips kindly, but alſo to give them all the ſuccours they may ſtand in need of.

From the Viſtula, July 6. We are informed that the city of Dantzic will not be much longer under the protection of the King of Poland, but is to paſs under that of the King of Pruſſia, who will enjoy, in that city, the ſame prerogatives which the Crown of Poland had there; and the citizens of Dantzic are to pay to his Pruſſian Majeſty 300,000 crowns.

LONDON.

July 20. Letters from Rome, dated the 29th ult. aſſure us, that all the effects and papers of the Jeſuits, in their colleges and houſes, have been ſeized and ſealed up, throughout the Eccleſiaſtical State, and that they are to be all baniſhed by the 15th of Auguſt next. The Bull for their ſuppreſſion has already appeared, and begins with the words Soli Deo, &c. In it, among other crimes, the Jeſuits are accuſed of having falſified Bulls of the Sovereign Pontiffs. The ſaid Bull will not be publiſhed in form at the above period, as his Holineſs is for having their effects diſpoſed of by the Biſhops, which is oppoſed by the Court of Vienna, who pretend to have a right to diſpoſe of them, after the example of the Princes of the Houſe of Bourbon. This retards the reſtitution of Avignon and Benevento to the Holy See, as thoſe Courts wait to ſee his Holineſs fulfil all his promiſes previous to their ſurrender.

By a Captain of a ſhip, arrived from Weymouth, we are informed, that laſt week ſome fiſhermen brought into that port a ſchooner about 70 tons burthen; her lading chiefly conſiſted of ſpirits and ſome tea, but not a living creature on board.

July 22. It has been often conjectured, that the three vaſt continents of Europe, Aſia and America, are ſo joined as to form but one; taking this for granted, and it will follow, that the whole four continents are united, for it is an unqueſtionable fact, that the continent of Africa is joined to that of Aſia by the iſthmus of Suez, which ſome have not improbably deemed the Goſhen of the ancients. The Eaſtern parts alſo of European Muſcovy join Aſia, and that again in ſome very high latitudes joins the Northern parts of America; from hence it ſhould ſeem, though our diſcoveries have not as yet aſcertained the fact, that there is ſomewhere a junction of the four continents; and this will ſolve the difficulty under which Hiſtorians have laboured, when attempting to account for the manner of peopling thoſe immenſe tracts of land, which by vulgar error are ſuppoſed to be ſeparated by the Ocean from other Continents.

A Privy Council is ſummoned to meet this day at St. James's, ſaid to be in reference to ſeveral Petitions againſt the late Gold Coinage Act, ſetting forth the hardſhips the community in general ſuffer on the occaſion.

There are letters in town from Carthagena, in the Spaniſh Weſt-Indies, which relate, that the revolution of the natives of Chili, and the ſouthern provinces of Peru, was entirely compleated in the month of December laſt; that the Spaniards were totally driven out of the Country, and a deſcendant of the ancient Incas placed on the throne of thoſe extenſive territories.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, July 10.

"A courier has juſt arrived here from the Ruſſian army, with advices of a large party of the Ruſſians, amounting to 11,000 horſe and foot, under the command of Lieutenant-General Potemkin, being entirely defeated by the Turks, but 4000 eſcaping with the General, and other officers of diſtinction. This party was detached by Count Romanzow, to attempt the taking of Ockzakow, which is in Budziack Tartary, and a town of great importance. They marched from the camp at Targorod, in Moldavia, and met with no oppoſition till they arrived at Beuden, a city of Beſſarabia, where a body of the Turkiſh army, under the command of two Baſſas, lay intrenched. The Ruſſians attacked them immediately, and after an obſtinate engagement, entered the intrenchments, driving the Turks out with great loſs. They retired towards Ockzakow, and the victorious Muſcovites purſued as far as Palantua, a little town, with two ſtrong caſtles; at the back of this town lay encamped 8000 Turks, and near 20,000 Tartars. This was entirely unexpected by the Ruſſians, but no alternative now remained, they muſt either fight, or yield themſelves priſoners; they choſe the former, and began the attack themſelves, by firing from twenty pieces of artillery, which made ſome ſlaughter, but the ſuperior number of the Turks and Tartars prevailed, near 6000 of the Ruſſians were killed, about a thouſand priſoners, and the reſt, with General Potemkin, made good a retreat to Bender."

Extract of a Letter from Conſtantinople, June 11.

"The Porte ſeems determined to carry on the war with the greateſt vigour; for this purpoſe, about the middle of laſt month, a ſquadron left our Canal for the Black Sea, compoſed of 8 ſhips of the line, three of which mount 64, and five 54 guns; ſix frigates of 30 guns, a lambequine of 40 guns; ten chebecs, four of which mount 30, three 24, and three 20 guns; a kind of veſſel, called Tombatz, of 20 guns; a Dutch built veſſel, mounting 40 guns; ten Albanian and Candiote ſhips, mounting from 30 to 18 guns; and galleys, half-galleys, and galliots, to the number of an hundred. This armament is divided into three ſquadrons; the firſt, that intended for Ockzakow, is arrived there, and has landed the troops and ammunition intended for that place; the ſecond, which is compoſed of the ſtouteſt veſſels, is deſtined to ſhut up the mouth of the Danube, to hinder the ſailing of the Ruſſian armament, conſtructed under the direction of Admiral Knowles, near Iſmailow, from entering the Black Sea; and the third diviſion is to tranſport troops and neceſſaries for ſuccouring the Crimean Tartary, and recovering that country from the power of the Ruſſians."

We are credibly informed, that Lord North has not only conſulted the Governors of the Bank and Officers of the Mint on the Coin Act, but has likewiſe had the opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor General on the ſame, all of whom approved thereof.

A piece of very rich ſilk brocade is now making for a Great Perſonage, by an eminent weaver near Spitalfields, which, without either the ornament of gold or ſilver, it is ſaid, will amount to fifty guineas per yard.

It is ſaid, that Kenſington Palace is now actually fitting up for the Duke and Dutcheſs of Glouceſter's winter reſidence.

July 23. Some Neapolitan officers, who had been ten years in ſlavery at Algiers, are juſt releaſed by his Sicilian Majeſty. One of them, it ſeems, was ſo much in favour with the Dey, on whoſe perſon he conſtantly attended, that he made him the moſt generous offers, to engage him to ſtay with him, and on the officer's declining, ſent him home loaded with preſents, and gave him a paſſport to trade freely in the ſtate.

They adviſe from Cadiz, that the French frigate La Licorne put in there for water, ſailed again the 19th ult. and the next day ſhe foundered in a gale of wind, about 20 leagues off that place, and all the crew periſhed.

Advice is received that the French Conſul at Goa, in the Eaſt-Indies, with his wife, family, and ſervants, have been maſſacred by the inhabitants. The Engliſh and Dutch ſettlements on the ſame coaſt are under very great apprehenſions of a viſit from them, on which account the ſtricteſt military diſcipline is obſerved.

July 24. A propoſed treaty of alliance, between the Crown of Great-Britain and the ſeveral branches of the Houſe of Bourbon, is at preſent much the ſubject of converſation at the Weſt end of the town. If this report has any foundation, it accounts at once for the unexpected return of our Miniſter from the Court of Verſailles, and his frequent viſits to Caen-Wood and Luton Hoo.

Though the news of the week is, Lord Hillſborough is gone to Ireland on his own private buſineſs, it is talked of for a certainty, that he is gone with the Olive Branch, to conciliate the breaches between Government and the leading men in the oppoſition.

On Thurſday laſt the Privy Council adjourned the report of the Lords of Trade and Plantations, upon the conduct of an American Governor, till Thurſday next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. The hearing was attended by a reſpectable and crowded audience; among them many of the principal gentry from all the American provinces, and from the Weſt-India iſlands, were preſent. The Council on the other ſide will be heard on Thurſday. An appeal upon a report of this nature was never before argued; and it was termed a very heavy, coarſe, and ſtrange performance, by the Council againſt it, and otherwiſe much abuſed. This being a cauſe of much public expectation for more than eighteen months paſt, the Lords are detained in town a week longer, and a deciſion will be concluded upon before the uſual ſummer receſs.

It is affirmed, that the Emperor piques himſelf more on being a deſcendant of the Dukes of Loraine, and conſequently of the antient race of the Kings of France, than as head of the Germanic body. This predilection for the country of his anceſtors may in future be productive of very ſerious conſequences to the tranquility of France, Germany and Italy.

A plan has lately been preſented to his Majeſty by Lord Sandwich, to engage ſailors to enter into the navy on any emergency in future, which has met with approbation.

Advice is received from St. Malo's, that on the 10th inſtant, they had as violent a ſtorm of thunder, lightning and rain, as ever was known, which did a great deal of damage to the houſes in the city, and to the parts adjacent, deſtroying all the fruits, and ſeveral perſons were ſtruck dead by the lightning, as were many of their cattle; that there was likewiſe a great deal of damage done to the ſhipping on that coaſt; pieces of wrecks and dead bodies are daily thrown on ſhore.

Letters by the Fox Eaſt Indiaman bring an account, that the French have got at the Mauritias a very conſiderable fleet of men of war ready to put to ſea; that they are building ſeveral ſtrong forts and batteries, the materials for which they carried with them from Europe.

The late Coin Act not extending to Ireland, it is ſaid that upwards of 200,000 light guineas have been ſhipped for Dublin, by the Iriſh Factors, in the courſe of the laſt fortnight.

Yeſterday afternoon new guineas, to the amount of 70,000 l. were delivered from the Tower to the Bank.

Letters from Gibraltar ſay, the combined fleets have almoſt deſtroyed Tetuan by a bombardment, landed ſome forces, and ravaged the country for many miles.

Orders have been ſent to Hanover, for a number of the paupers in that electorate to be ſhipped off as ſettlers in the new-cultivated tract of Eaſt-Florida.

July 26. Saturday in the afternoon two meſſengers were ſent from Lord Rochford's office to his Majeſty at Kew, with diſpatches received from abroad, one of which was from Horace St. Paul, Charge des Affaires at the French Court.

The late reſolution of the General Court of Eaſt-India Proprietors, relative to negating the command of their forces to Lieut. Gen. Clavering, has not a little diſcompoſed the Premier. The reſolution, however, formed by him in his emergency is this. Seeing that even the authority of the King and Privy Council cannot operate in the General's favour, the Judges and other officers, lately appointed to go out to India, and who were to have ſailed the beginning of October next, are now to wait to the middle of November, by which time the Parliament will be aſſembled, and the firſt buſineſs they go on, will be to make an act, declaratory of their former reſolution, appointing Lieut. Gen. Clavering Commander in Chief of the Eaſt-India Company's forces in India.

A private letter from Paris ſays, "Two new arrets of the council of ſtate have juſt appeared here, for ſuſpending the payment of the orders on the general receipt of the finances and other funds due to the public creditors, which occaſion no ſmall conſternation."

"This Republic is at preſent under much conſternation, owing to ſome proceedings of the Ruſſian ſhips now in the Adriatic; three ſail of large ſhips of war and a frigate, who met with ſome damages off the coaſt of Malachia, put into the harbour of Pago, or Gliſſa, in the iſland of the ſame name, about two miles from the Marlachian coaſt. They obliged the inhabitants to furniſh them with proviſions, and every thing neceſſary for the repair of their ſhips; and have likewiſe built two forts at the mouth of the harbour, under pretence of a guard againſt the Turks."

Extract of a Letter from Conſtantinople, June 17.

"We have juſt received the advice here of the Ruſſians having poſſeſſed themſelves of all the places in the Morea, except the province of Belvedere, which ſtill remains entirely with the Turks. The other provinces of Romania, Minou, and Zaehonia, or Buacchio de Mana, with the Dutchy of Clarenza, are all ſubjected to the Muſcovites, and the Greeks in general own the ſovereignty of the Empreſs of Ruſſia. The Turks are ſtrongly fortifying Modon, Corone, and all the other places of importance in Belvedere, but more eſpecially Navarina, where they have a formidable fleet of ſhips of war and gallies lying in the harbour."

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, July 17.

"Monday laſt being quarter day of the Guild of Merchants, that corporation unanimouſly reſolved, that an addreſs be preſented to the Marquis of Kildare and Dr. Clement, their Repreſentatives in Parliament, requiring their utmoſt oppoſition to any attempts which may be made towards obtaining a ſtamp-act in this kingdom; to requeſt they will uſe their beſt endeavours to ſuppreſs the preſent Board of Exciſe, and to prevent the ſalaries of the Surveyors General and the Taſter of Wines from becoming a part of the Civil Liſt."

NEW-YORK, September 20.

Wedneſday Evening arrived here, in 23 Days from the Bay, the Snow Eſther, Captain Dunn, bound to Boſton, but put in here being in Want of Proviſions: He reports that there are about 20 of the moſt deſperate of the Negroes ſtill in Arms; that five who were taken were executed in the following Manner, viz, One hanged, three burnt, and one gibbetted alive. That their plan (which was laid with ſuch Art as to give it a Probability of Succeſs) was to have murdered every white Perſon and their Adherents; but the full Execution of it was happily prevented, by the Confeſſion of one of the Conſpirators who had been taken---that ſince the Beginning of the Inſurrection, they had murdered about 20 white people---that a Man of War was arrived there from Jamaica, and they had ſent for another to protect them---that they were in great Want of Proviſions, and none to be had, the Trade being entirely at an End. No Logwood or Mahogany cut this Year, and what had been left of what was cut before, waſhed away with the Floods. That in 6 Weeks, upwards of 40 Negroes had gone over to the Spaniards, who protected and refuſed to deliver them up; and 20 more in one Gang went off juſt before he left the Bay: That moſt of the white People were preparing to leave it, with their Negroes and Effects, ſome of them intending to ſettle in Georgia, being very apprehenſive the Spaniards would come down upon them, and make Repriſals for the Salvage of the Spaniſh Regiſter Ship Thetis, which had been loſt at the Bay ſome Time ago, as mentioned in the Papers. He left only two Veſſels there, one of which, a Brig, belonging to Philadelphia, Captain Jonathan Eves, was to ſail for Georgia, with Negroes, &c. in about 10 Days after Captain Dunn.

On the 3d Inſtant a further and very ſtrict Search was made for printing Materials (concealed by Ford, the Money-maker) in the Swamp where the Preſs was found, when, after much Diligence was exerted, a Sett of Plates, for printing the Currency of Maryland, Penſylvania, New-Jerſey and New-York, with a Quantity of Types and other Utenſils, for carrying on the counterfeiting Bills of each Province, were diſcovered and ſecured. In the Courſe of his Flight, he put off ſome Jerſey Bills, of his own Manufacture, among the Indians, who, being afterwards apprized that they were counterfeited, very chearfully joined in the Purſuit of this moſt pernicious Artiſt.

We are aſſured that BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, Eſq; will embark in one of the early London Fall Ships for this City, on his Way to Philadelphia. The Captains Miller, Lawrence and Chambers, were to ſail from thence on the firſt of Auguſt.

The Seneca Indians have killed four Frenchmen, and robbed a Canoe of 30 Packs of Peltry, on Lake Ontario. This Account is ſent down from Onondago. Another Account, brought on Tueſday Evening, mentions, that five Perſons, coming from Michilimachinac, have been murdered by the Indians, amongſt whom were Captain Volkert Dowe, and Mr. M'Farlane.

We hear from Morris-Town, in New-Jerſey, that on Friday laſt David Reynolds was executed there, for counterfeiting the Bills of Credit of that Province.---Three others, who were to have ſuffered with Reynolds, are reſpited for one Month.

PHILADELPHIA, September 22.

On Saturday laſt his Honour the Governor was entertained by the Mayor and Commonalty of this City, at the State-Houſe, with an elegant Dinner, at which were preſent, the late Governor Richard Penn, Eſq; the Members of the Council, the Judges, the Clergy, the Gentlemen of the Army and Navy, with moſt of the Strangers and principal Inhabitants of this City. Many loyal and patriotic Toaſts were drank, accompanied by the Diſcharge of the Artillery from the Barracks, and the whole conducted with much decent Feſtivity.

AND I DO hereby prohibit and forbid all His Majefty's Subjects of this, or any other Province or Colony, on any Pretence whatfoever, to intrude upon, fettle or poffefs, any of the aforefaid unpurchafed Lands, as they will anfwer the contrary at their Peril. AND I DO ALSO hereby ftrictly command and require all Magiftrates, Sheriffs, and other Peace Officers within this Province, to enforce and carry into ftrict Execution the faid Act of General Aflembly, as well againft the prefent Offenders in the Premifes, as all others who may hereafter tranfgrefs the fame.

To the PRINTERS of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

GENTLEMEN,

By inferting the following Addrefs to the Freeholders of this County and City, you will oblige, N. Z.

MY FRIENDS, Philadelphia, Sept. 18, 1773.

THE unhappy Divifions that have prevailed in this County and City, for feveral Elections paft, cannot fail to occafion a real Concern of Mind in every virtuous Breaft.----To obferve Men, who lived in Confidence, and ftood high in the Efteem of each other, fuddenly diffolving all Friendfhip and Regard, and Hatred and Enmity fucceeding, can only afford Pleafure to the moft degenerate Mind. Where we muft feek for the Caufe of this, my worthy Fellow-citizens, is not my prefent Intention to inveftigate farther, than to attribute it to the natural Infirmities of human Nature; fuch Infirmities as it is our Intereft, as well as Duty, to bear. I mean not to reproach you in what I have advanced; for I muft confefs I felt as well as others the malignant Effects of a Party Rage, which made me view fome of my very Friends as Monfters, whofe political Sins made fit to be facrificed to the Manes of our bleffed Conftitution, and which I thought they were ready to barter away for the Gratification of their Avarice, their Spleen, or their Ambition.----Of thefe I fincerely afk Pardon, for now the Mift of Prejudice and Paffion has fubfided, I view them through a clear Medium, which neither magnifies their Faults, nor obfcures their Virtues; and I find they were actuated by the fame laudable Motives, which, I hope, I fhall ever have to boaft of, the Love of Liberty and our Conftitution.

Thefe, my Friends, are my Sentiments, which I truft will be a fufficient Apology for taking up my Pen at this Time, to endeavour to effect a Reconciliation of Parties; for which Purpofe I beg Leave to propofe a few Queries to your Confideration. But firft I muft declare, that I am attached to no particular Party amongft my Fellow-citizens, but I revere the Friends of Liberty, and the honeft, of every Party.

QUERIES.

1ft. Can you believe in your Hearts, that either Party amongft you, fome fplenetic, turbulent, and ambitious Men excepted, have any Thing further in View, than the real Security of our Conftitution, and Profperity of Pennfylvania?

2d. Ought you to abufe, revile and calumniate one another, merely for differing in your political Sentiments?

3d. Would it not be more confiftent with the Character of a polite civilized People, fuch as Philadelphians are acknowledged to be, to act with Decency, Unanimity and Harmony?

4th. Would it not become our Character, and Profeffion as Chriftians, to endeavour to promote Concord, rather than to fow Diffentions?

5th. And laftly, Are not the moft of you, who have been involved in our political Controverfies, heartily tired of them; and do you not wifh for Harmony to be reftored?

I have fo high an Opinion of my Fellow-citizens, both as Politicians and as Men, that I cannot doubt the Anfwers that would be made to thefe Queries; fuch Anfwers as Wifdom and Benevolence will naturally dictate. In Hopes that I am right in thefe my Sentiments of you, I do now venture to propofe a general Meeting of the moderate, fenfible and reputable Freeholders and Electors of this City, without any Diftinction of Parties, that we may agree upon two Perfons to repreſent us, in the Room of Samuel Shoemaker, and Jofeph King, Efquires, fuch as may both ferve their Country, and do Honour to our Choice. If fuch a Meeting can be effected, I have great Hopes it will be productive of a Reconciliation, provided that Decency and good Manners be preferved in their Debates; that it may, is the fincere Wifh of

IRON FURNACES.

IN all new eſtabliſhed Colonies it appears highly neceſſary to uſe every means for moderating the price of labour, and for carrying on all kinds of manufactories with the greater facility, to which purpoſe mechanical contrivances ſeem particularly adapted; and as CHRISTOPHER COLLES, of Philadelphia, has made that branch of knowledge his favourite ſtudy, he gives this public notice, that he has lately thought of ſome things, and made ſome new inventions, which, he apprehends, may be exceedingly advantageous to this country, particularly a method whereby a furnace for extracting iron from its ore may be carried on, in any ſituation remote from water (where the ore and fuel may be convenient) upon an equal footing with thoſe, whoſe proximity to water make their ſituation convenient. And alſo a cheap and ſimple machine to raiſe water to gentlemens ſeats, and to water meadows; which contrivances he will execute for ſuch as are willing to encourage him. Letters (poſt paid) directed to him, in Fifth-ſtreet, near the State-houſe, will be duly anſwered. §

TO BE SOLD,

In purſuance of the laſt will and teſtament of JOHN HUGHES, deceaſed, by the Subſcribers, Executors thereof,

THREE LOTS of good LAND, ſituated in the townſhip of Paſſyunk, and now in the poſſeſſion of Sebaſtian Sunleidnor. The firſt lot, containing eight acres, joins the river Schuylkill, and ground formerly belonging to the reverend William Sturgeon, deceaſed, but now to Levi Marks: The ſituation being high, and commanding an extenſive and delightful proſpect of the river and ſurrounding country, renders it a ſuitable place for a gentleman's ſeat, and the diſtance from the city is very convenient. On this lot are a number of apple trees, and it is encloſed with a good fence, of cedar poſts and rails.

The ſecond lot contains four acres, and lies at the junction of Paſſyunk and Rouſe's roads, near the above-mentioned lot. On this two houſes are erected; one of them built of brick, two ſtories high, the other of logs. There is alſo a well of good water, and a number of fruit trees on it.

The third lies upon Rouſe's road, being bounded by ground of John Searſon, and oppoſite John Britton's land, and contains near ſeven acres; part whereof is ſuitable for gardening, and the remainder for paſture.

Alſo to be ſold, the moiety of a Steel Furnace and Lot of Ground, at the corner of Eighth and Walnut-ſtreets, in this city, containing in breadth, on Walnut-ſtreet, 49½ feet, and in depth, on Eighth-ſtreet, 127½ feet. With this will be ſold the moiety of a Lot in the town of Darby, in the county of Cheſter, containing 15 perches, whereon has been formerly a tilting hammer, for plating iron or ſteel, and which the purchaſer will have a right to put up. The ſtream is ſufficient for that or other water-works.

Alſo a Houſe and two Lots in Eaſton, in Northampton county. The houſe has been formerly occupied as a tavern, is in good repair, and well ſituated. JOHN HUGHES,

Sept. 28, 1773. ¶ 6 w. ISAAC HUGHES.

TO BE LETT,

A WELL-ACCUSTOMED FULLING-MILL, near Haddonfield, in Glouceſter county, Weſt New-Jerſey, ſituated on a never-failing ſtream, and in a country where buſineſs is exceeding plenty. If no ſuitable tenant offers ſoon, a good Journeyman Fuller will be wanted, at ſaid Mill, by the ſubſcriber, who intends to carry on the Fulling Buſineſs, in all its branches, as uſual. Cuſtomers, in town and country, may depend upon having the greateſt care taken of their cloths, and their work done in the neateſt and beſt manner, and upon the very loweſt terms. Enquire of JOHN KEY, living on the premiſes. §

Hunterdon County, New-Jerſey, Sept. 20, 1773.

WHEREAS the ſubſcriber having been concerned in company, in trade, and carrying on Iron-works, &c. ſome years paſt, whereby they became greatly in debt, and the partners are all either dead or inſolvent, and none left but himſelf, who finds it impoſſible for him to diſcharge ſaid debts; and, therefore intends to petition the legiſlature of the province of New-Jerſey, at their next ſitting, for relief in the premiſes---- And all thoſe concerned are deſired to take notice.

§ THOMAS READING.

AS the Copartnerſhip between CHRISTOPHERS AND CHARLES MARSHALL has been expired ſome Time paſt, and as repeated Solicitations to thoſe who have been long in Arrears have been ineffectual, they once more requeſt the immediate Diſcharge of their Accompts, to prevent their being under the diſagreeable Neceſſity of putting them into a Lawyer's Hands to recover.

JUST OPENING, BY ROBERT PATTON,

At his Store, in the Town of Lebanon, near the Market-houſe,

A VERY large and general Aſſortment of Fall GOODS, which he will ſell on the moſt reaſonable Terms, for Caſh, ſhort Credit, or Country Produce.

As it is well known, that this ſtore has always hitherto been well ſupported by him and Williams, and their partnerſhip being now poſitively diſſolved, he is determined, as formerly, to keep the moſt general aſſortment in town, having eſtabliſhed a correſpondence in Philadelphia, which will enable him to ſell on the very loweſt terms. He is further determined to reduce the price of his goods ſo low, as the carrying on a fair and juſt trade will poſſibly admit of. He alſo keeps ſmiths, carpenters, maſons, joiners and ſhoemakers tools; and continues his iron ſtore, where ſmiths may at all times be ſupplied with any quantity, and alſo with any particular ſort, upon ſhort notice being given, at as low a rate as the ſame is ſold at Lancaſter, or any of the neighbouring forges.

From the great encouragement he has met with in Lebanon, as well before as ſince the diſſolving of the partnerſhip between him and Mr. Williams, he is induced to take this opportunity to return his hearty and unfeigned thanks to the public in general, and to his friends and cuſtomers in particular, and intends, by the cloſeſt attention to buſineſs, and dealing on the ſtricteſt points of honour, to merit the continuance of their former favours; and flatters himſelf that all thoſe, who for the future ſhall be pleaſed to favour him with their cuſtom, ſhall have good reaſon to reſt ſatisfied with his candour in buſineſs. ¶ 7 ſ 6.

The ſaid Bennet Smith is a ſtout full faced fellow, with his own black hair, pitted with the ſmall-pox, ſo well known to the goalers that there needs little deſcription of the man. Any perſon claiming ſaid Horſe, and cloathing, may have them, by proving property, and paying charges to Whoever takes up ſaid ſervant, and ſecures him in any goal, ſo that his maſter may have him again, ſhall have the above reward, and, if brought home, reaſonable charges, paid by JOSEPH HUSBAND.

By the ROSAMOND, Capt. MILLER, arrived at New-York, from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

WARSAW July 22.

A COURIER, diſpatched by Field Marſhal Romanzow to the Baron de Stackelberg, the Ruſſian Miniſter at this place, has brought a confirmation of the victory gained by the Ruſſians over the Turks near Siliſtria, in conſequence of which Te Deum has been ſung in the Ruſſian Chapel here. But the joy attendant on this intelligence was much allayed, on learning that General Weiſman was killed in the engagement by a cannon ball.

The following particulars are related concerning a late attempt againſt the King's life. As the King was returning a few days ago from Grybow, a ſeat belonging to the Counteſs Ogyniſki, the Lady of the Great General of Lithuania, the Sieur Dobel, his Majeſty's Maſter of the Horſe, came up to the King, and told him he thought he had better take another route, having ſome reaſon to ſuſpect, from words which he had overheard, that the way he was in was not perfectly ſafe. The King thought proper to pay ſome regard to the advice he received, and went another way to his palace. Upwards of forty perſons are already taken up for being concerned againſt the King's life.

Hamburgh, July 27. Our letters from Hungary mention, that the paſſage of the grand Ruſſian Army over the Danube has coſt both them and the Turks a great number of men. The following is an account of the moſt material incidents: "General Stupuchin, in order to cover the troops who were paſſing the river, marched beyond Siliſtria in the night of the 21ſt of June, and being advanced as far as a defile near the town, he was attacked by a Turkiſh detachment; the two parties fought with amazing courage, but the Turks were obliged at laſt to yield the paſſage to the Ruſſians, after having ſome hundreds of their men killed and wounded, and their baggage, with 17 pieces of cannon, taken, they retired with great precipitation to Siliſtria; which place, as ſoon as the Ruſſian army had all paſſed the Danube, was attacked and taken by the Ruſſians, and part of the garriſon cut to pieces. General Suwarow, who was coming to join the grand army another way, met a corps of 6000 Turks, commanded by Seri Mehemet Bey; the action was very warm, and the victory ſeemed doubtful for a long time, till Seri Mehemet being killed, it was determined in favour of the Ruſſians. The Turks, after loſing their brave Commander, fled to the mountains, and left their baggage and 13 pieces of cannon to the Ruſſians. The Turks attempted to drive the Ruſſians from an Iſland in the Danube, near Ruſſig, where the latter had raiſed a battery, which was to defend the two branches of the River; the defence was not leſs courageous than the attack, and the Turks, notwithſtanding their ſuperiority in numbers, were obliged to give up the enterprize, and regain the other ſide of the River. It is ſaid this affair coſt them 3000 men."

LONDON, July 26.

Yeſterday morning Sir Baſil Keith, Governor of Jamaica, was married, at St. James's church, to Miſs Warren.

We hear from Kirkwall, in Scotland, that a whale of an enormous bulk was lately ſtranded there, and on being cut up, the ſkeleton of a man was found in his ſtomach; the bones were ſoft like wax, and yielded to the ſlighteſt impreſſion.

By letters from Prague we have advice, that Mr. Coulſton, an Engliſh merchant reſiding in Bohemia, has lately received, by an eſtaffietta from her Imperial Majeſty, the Empreſs Queen, a preſent of her Majeſty's cypher ſet in diamonds, as a teſtimony of her Majeſty's approbation, for the great relief given by that gentleman to the poor during the late ſcarcity of corn.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, July 12.

"Various are the reaſons aſſigned for the arrival of the Count d'Aranda in France. Some attribute his leaving Madrid to a diſgrace which does him honour, on account of his oppoſing an arbitrary faction, which moves heaven and earth to maintain its ground. It is ſaid that the Count de Fuentes is appointed Preſident of the Council of Caſtile in his room.

"It is ſaid the marriage of the Count d'Artois will be celebrated on the 17th of November next, immediately after the return of the Court from Fontainbleau. The Count de Broglio is appointed to go to meet the Princeſs allotted for his Royal Highneſs.

"The Marquis de Louvois is ſaid to be at the point of death, in conſequence of a wound he received ſome time ago in a duel with the Marquis de Genlis."

A correſpondent obſerves, that the people of Boſton were always contented, eaſy and happy, under the mild and fair adminiſtration of Governor Pownal, yet, on his return home, he was not made a Baronet, nor had he a penſion, or any other ſingular mark of favour; but his ſucceſſors who, by inflammatory writings, and extraordinary conduct, have almoſt ſet every thing in flames in that country, have been loaded with honours, places, and penſions to themſelves, and to their families.

The revolution of 1688 furniſhed us, ſays a correſpondent, at once with reaſons and an opportunity for improving the Conſtitution, and compleating the ſcheme of liberty, ſo imperfectly laid down and abandoned in the reign of the firſt Charles; but as the means of ſupporting and eſtabliſhing liberty increaſed, all corcern for it diminiſhed. Since that period the power of the Crown has been viſibly encreaſing, and this government has been approaching to abſolute monarchy. The cauſe of it is not only known, but publicly avowed. Corruption has been reduced to a ſyſtem; it has become univerſal, and the peaſant, ſituated at a diſtance from the pernicious influence of the Court, is poſſeſſed of it in as great a degree as the moſt ſervile attendant at the Miniſter's levee.

A few Days ſince, Mrs. Wright, of Philadelphia (ſo juſtly celebrated for her inimitable Performances in Wax-work) was preſented to her Majeſty, and moſt graciouſly received; and it is ſaid will very ſoon be employed in taking the Likeneſſes of the Royal Family.

Auguſt 7. Some letters by the laſt poſt from Holland adviſe, that a fleet was fitting out at Breſt with great ſecrecy and expedition, the object of which was not publicly known.

It is reported that the poſt of Secretary of State for Scotland, which has lain dormant near forty years, will ſoon be revived.---The late Marquis of Tweedale was the laſt Secretary.

"Yeſterday morning the Empreſs received a courier from the main army, with the agreeable news that, on the 22d of June laſt, Field Marſhal Count Romanzow paſſed the Danube, near Hirſchoff. His advanced guard, under command of the Lieutenants-General Stupuchin and Potemkin, and Majors General Weiſman and Prince Gallitzin, entirely defeated different Turkiſh corps, ſeized upon their entrenchments, together with all their baggage, and upwards of 30 pieces of braſs cannon. The advanced guard is within three werſtes of Siliſtria. Marſhal Romanzow obſerves that, as ſoon as he has made himſelf maſter of Siliſtria, he will go in ſearch of the Grand Viſir, ſo that we may ſoon expect important news from that quarter."

Whatever may have been ſaid to the contrary, the King of Pruſſia did not take poſſeſſion of the diſtrict of Great Poland, ſituate between the Drage and the Netze, before he had publiſhed a Manifeſto, in which he endeavoured to make out his right to all the countries known by the name of Poliſh Pruſſia: We are very certain that, whenever this great Prince ſhall lay claim to Hanover, he will, according to his uſual method, make out firſt as good a title as he poſſibly can upon paper, and then ſeize the Electorate with a large body of troops.

An Extract of a letter from Conſtantinople, dated June 20, ſays, "Yeſterday a number of Muſcovite priſoners, amounting to near 3000, were led in triumph through the principal ſtreets of this city, after the eſclavage of the Grand Signor, who, in order the more effectually to ſecure himſelf, has for ſome days paſt given away bread, &c. to the populace. This is thought to have been done to leſſen the ideas the people have long entertained of the Ruſſian victories. Very frequent meetings are held at the Divan, to which no foreign Miniſter, except the Engliſh, French and Dutch, is admitted to. The Pruſſian Ambaſſador, on account of his Maſter's conduct with reſpect to the war with the Court of Ruſſia, has had notice given him, not to leave the Ottoman dominions without leave. How this affair will be received, when known at Berlin, is a circumſtance which is ardently expected to be known. Freſh ſupplies of troops are daily ſending off to the army, but proviſions for them are uncommonly ſcarce.

We are informed, that in the courſe of laſt week 150,000 l. were ſent from the Tower to the Bank.

"We have juſt obtained the following authentic account of an action between 9000 Janiſſaries and 2000 Spahis, under the command of the Baſſa Saxe Hoſſein, and a body of 14,000 horſe and foot, under the Ruſſian Brigadier General Suwarow, near the city of Bialogrod, in the Province of Beſſarabia.

"The Ruſſian troops paſſed the Danube near Oblneice, being detached from the grand army on the deſign of taking the city of Bialogrod, which is a place of the utmoſt importance, as it would inſure the ſole poſſeſſion of Beſſarabia, and likewiſe open a new communication with the Black Sea. The Grand Viſir, having notice of this intention before it was put in execution, detached the above-mentioned force, under Saxe Hoſſein, to croſs the river before the Ruſſians, and impede their march.

"The Turks did croſs the Danube before General Suwarow's army, but proceeded towards Bialogrod, judging, if they had that place in their rear, they might retire to it, if hardly preſſed. They encamped in an advantageous ſituation, having a communication with the Town, and with Kilia on the right.

"The Ruſſian army ſoon came up, and the Turks drew out of their entrenchments to meet them; but after two hours obſtinate reſiſtance they gave way, and fled towards the town, leaving their entrenchments, with all their baggage, &c. to the mercy of the enemy, who immediately entered, and took poſſeſſion of them.

"The Turks fortified themſelves in the town, which General Suwarow was beſieging when the advices came away."

By letters from Peterſburgh we learn, that the Empreſs has lately exacted a large contribution from the Clergy of Ruſſia.

Some letters from Dreſden mention, that the Elector of Saxony ſtill continues increaſing his army, which now amounts to upwards of 50,000 men.

Extract of a letter from Leghorn, July 10.

"By a French ſhip, arrived here from the Archipelago, we are informed, that all the Greeks in the Morea have publicly and abſolutely declared themſelves ſubjects to the Empreſs of Ruſſia, in conſequence of which Count Orlow has landed a number of ſoldiers from his fleet, and taken poſſeſſion of moſt of the principal towns and fortreſſes, in the name of her Imperial Majeſty.

"Count Orlow, who, when the French came away, was lying with a large ſquadron at Tenedos, was preparing to ſail on an expedition to the coaſt of Syria."

It is ſaid that a meſſenger was yeſterday ſent to Lord Rochford, requeſting his immediate attendance in town.

Some removes amongſt the Governors of North-America are, it is ſaid, now in agitation.

The King of Pruſſia has lately ſtopped a conſiderable quantity of planks, ſtaves, &c. which the Britiſh Merchants at Dantzic had not only contracted for, but even given earneſt; nor have the warmeſt remonſtrances on the part of the factory, been able to obtain any redreſs. Application has been made, and a memorial preſented by the Merchants of London to the Miniſtry on the ſame ſubject; but we are much miſtaken if they meet with more ſucceſs. The Merchants have entered into contracts with the Navy, and they muſt fulfil them.

Extract of a Letter from Hamburgh, July 28.

"This being the age for ſetting up obſolete claims in Germany, and which have been attended with too much ſucceſs, as the Claimants are too powerful to be argued with, it is to be feared the inhabitants of this trading city are on the eve of being great ſufferers. Count Schomberg has ſet up ſome ancient claim on us, the nature of which, we are not fully informed of, and has laid his caſe before the Court of Vienna, and if it is allowed valid, which ſome ſay there is little doubt of, a neighbouring Monarch is ready to purchaſe the Count's right, and then we may be in a like ſituation with our neighbours the Dantzicers.

"According to the beſt hiſtorical account, this city was taken by Woldemar, Duke of Sleſwick, about the year 1200, who gave it to Albrecht, Earl of Orlimund, of whom the Citizens bought their liberty, and ſo became a free ſtate; which was ſeveral times confirmed by the Earls of Holſtein and Schawenburg, his poſterity, to the laſt of that family, who died, A. 1459, after which, the province of Holſtein, falling into the hands of Chriſtian I. King of Denmark, the Hamburghers contracted a league of friendſhip with that Prince, whoſe ſucceſſors have often endeavoured to have the protection of this city, but could never obtain it. In the year 1510, the city of Hamburgh was declared free and imperial by the Emperor Maximilian in the Dyet, and the Duke of Holſtein ſummoned to make good his pretenſions to it, or renounce them for ever. In fine, the city has to this day preſerved its freedom, which it has been the better able to do, by reaſon of the continual jealouſies between two Northern Crowns; however, the Dane has ſeveral times fleeced us; in the year 1679, he got 220,000 rix-dollars from us, to take us again into his favour, as it was termed in the treaty; and in the year 1686, he again brought an army and beſieged us, but was bought off, and within theſe twelve years the Danes exacted another conſiderable ſum."

It is ſaid, that her Majeſty was taken very ill on Thurſday before ſhe got to Kew, back from St. James's, and is now attended by Doctor Hunter, and Sir William Duncan.

Yeſterday, after breaking up of the Levee, Lord North came unexpectedly to town, went to St. James's, had a conference with his Majeſty, and in the evening ſet out for his ſeat at Buſhy Park.

An Evening Paper ſays, The Parliament of Ireland will meet in the ſecond week of October next. It is a fixed meaſure that government will aſk an aid of three hundred and eighty thouſand pounds to diſcharge the arrears there, occaſioned by the revenue failing: And it is as certain that this ſum, large as it is, is not ſufficient; owing to the eſtabliſhment's being ſo heavily burthened with additional Placemen, Penſioners, &c. Moreover, as the revenue is found to fall ſo much ſhort of the eſtabliſhment, government will lay new taxes on that kingdom, to the amount of at leaſt one hundred thouſand pounds per annum. What are to be the objects of this new taxation are, at this time, under the conſideration of the councils in both kingdoms. The linen manufacture in Ireland (which is the principal manufacture there) being ſo much decayed, many of the capital perſons concerned in it have repeatedly and warmly ſolicited ſome relief; but government here perſevere againſt them.

It is ſaid that three of the men of war now fitting out for ſea at Portſmouth are deſtined for North America, and are to be ready for ſailing the beginning of next month.

BOSTON, September 16.

On Thurſday ſe'nnight, as a great number of people were aſſiſting in raiſing the frame of a new meeting-houſe, in Wilton, New-Hampſhire, one of the large beams accidentally gave way, when the greateſt part of the frame, with fifty-three perſons that were upon it, fell to the ground, by which unhappy event, three men were inſtantly killed, and fifty wounded, two of whom have ſince died of their wounds, and four more are thought to be paſt recovery. This accident has put by the raiſing for the preſent.

NEW-YORK, September 24.

On Friday, the 17th inſtant, at Morris Town, in Eaſt New-Jerſey, was executed, David Reynolds, a native of Ireland, about 32 years of age, for counterfeiting the money bills of credit, of that colony. He arrived there about ten years ago, and chiefly followed the farming buſineſs, till getting acquainted with Roſencrans (executed ſome time ago for the like crime, but without declaring his accomplices) he was by him led into the ſcheme of making and paſſing counterfeit money: After the execution of Roſencrans, Reynolds accidentally met with Captain Richardſon (of Philadelphia, who is fled) and getting acquainted with each others characters, was by him introduced to Ford, Haynes, Cooper, Budd, King, and the reſt of the gang. Ford, the principal, termed by the reſt, the treaſurer of the three provinces, had counterfeited the money bills of New-York, New-Jerſey, and Pennſylvania, in ſo maſterly a manner, as not to be diſtinguiſhed from the true bills without the niceſt inſpection, and alſo ſeveral of the gold and ſilver coins current in the Britiſh Colonies; and in paſſing theſe, Reynolds and the reſt of the accomplices continued, till Ford and King were apprehended and impriſoned in Morris County goal, from whence they ſoon after made their eſcape, as mentioned in the papers. One of the gang being convicted of aiding them in their eſcape, and other high miſdemeanors, to mitigate his puniſhment, made ſome confeſſions tending to the diſcovery of the reſt, which alarmed another, who made an ample confeſſion of the whole, in conſequence of which, Reynolds, Haynes, Cooper and Budd, were tried, confeſſed their guilt, and were condemned to be hanged. Their execution was ordered to be on the 17th inſtant; before the time Budd and Haynes were reſpited for a month, but Reynolds and Cooper were ordered to prepare for execution at the time appointed. A few minutes before the time, Cooper confeſſed himſelf privy to the robbery of the Treaſury at Amboy, and that he received 300 l. of the money; on which he alſo was reſpited till he ſhould make further diſcoveries. Reynolds was therefore ordered for execution alone, at which he ſeemed much affected, and burſt into tears, but through the aſſiſtance of a miniſter who attended him, he grew calm, and reſigned to his fate. His behaviour during his confinement, and after his ſentence, was penitent and ſubmiſſive; he ſhewed a proper ſenſibility of his unhappy ſituation, and earneſtly exhorted his companions in guilt to a ſincere repentance. On the fatal day, he took an affecting leave of them; and they all diſcovered the moſt lively expreſſions of that diſtreſs to which their crimes and follies had reduced them, which drew tears from the eyes of the ſpectators. At the place of execution, Reynolds ſung and prayed very earneſtly, and in a ſhort, but pathetic ſpeech, warned the people to avoid the vices that had undone him, and earneſtly requeſted them not to reflect on his innocent wife and helpleſs infants.

Cooper confeſſed that he was privy to the robbery of the Treaſury at Amboy, and received 300 l. of the money, that it was concerted by Ford, and perpetrated by him and three ſoldiers then quartered there; that the plan was, firſt to attempt to carry off the iron cheſt, and if that failed, next to take the key from Mr. Skinner's bed-room, and to kill him or any perſon who ſhould diſcover them; and that if afterwards any of them ſhould be ſuſpected and convicted, they were to turn King's evidence, and accuſe Mr. Skinner as being the only accomplice with them. When ſome of them were ſhocked at this propoſal, as thereby an innocent perſon might loſe his life; Ford replied, no, damn him, he will only be condemned, he has friends enough to ſave him from the gallows. That after breaking into the Treaſurer's office, adjoining to his bed room, they attempted to carry off the cheſt, but finding it difficult, ſet it down again, and breaking open a deſk in the room, in hopes to find money, they therein found an old key to the money cheſt, which was ruſty, and thought unfit for uſe (the key then uſed being in Mr. Skinner's bed room) with this old key, they opened the iron cheſt, and thereby the lives that would have been expoſed by their ſearch for the other key, were probably preſerved. The Governor and Council of New-Jerſey are to meet in a few days, when further particulars relating to this matter will be known.

PHILADELPHIA, September 29.

To the Honourable JOHN PENN, Eſq; one of the Proprietaries, and Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennſylvania,

The ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of the Freemen of the ſaid Province, in General Aſſembly met.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

PERMIT us, very ſincerely, to congratulate you on your ſafe Return to this Province, and Re-acceſſion to your Government.

The Harmony ſubſiſting between the two Branches of the Legiſlature at the Time your private Affairs called for your Preſence in Europe, and the Happineſs that Harmony promiſed to the People, induce us to receive you again in the ſame Station and Character with very ſenſible Pleaſure.

But, independant of this Conſideration, the Reſolution of one of the Proprietaries to aſſume the immediate Superintendance of the Province, gives us additional Satisfaction, as it is a Meaſure which has been wiſhed, and even ſolicited for, by our Predeceſſors in Aſſembly, and is certainly founded in the ſoundeſt Policy; for we are confident the true Intereſts of the Proprietaries, and the People committed to their Care and Protection, are ſo firmly united, that they cannot be ſeparated, without doing Violence to the Welfare and Happineſs of both.

Impreſſed with theſe Sentiments, and convinced of your good Diſpoſition to unite with us, in promoting the Common Weal, no Endeavours, on our Part, ſhall be wanting, to ſupport the Honour and Dignity of your Government, and to ſecure to the Proprietaries and People their juſt Rights and Liberties.

September 21, 1773. Signed by Order of the Houſe, JOSEPH GALLOWAY, Speaker.

The GOVERNOR's ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I ACCEPT with particular Pleaſure your kind Congratulations, and the Aſſurances you are pleaſed to give me, that you will ſupport the Honour and Dignity of my Government, for which I moſt heartily return you my warmeſt Thanks.

As it was ever my ſincere Inclination to cultivate Harmony between the two Branches of the Legiſlature, during my former Adminiſtration, ſo you may be aſſured it ſhall be my future Care, while I have the Honour to preſide in the Government of this Province, to cheriſh the ſame good Diſpoſitions, as the ſureſt Means of contributing to the Happineſs and Proſperity of the People committed to my Care, with which I am thoroughly ſenſible the Intereſt of my Family is inſeparably connected.

The Repreſentatives of the Freemen of this Province may therefore rely on the Sincerity of my Profeſſions, when I aſſure them, that while my Duty calls upon me to ſupport the juſt Prerogatives of the Crown, and the Rights of the Proprietaries, I ſhall be happy in promoting the Welfare of the People, and protecting them in the Enjoyment of their invaluable Liberties and Privileges.

We hear that the Lady JULIANA PENN hath lately preſented to the ASSEMBLY of this Province, a very elegant Buſt of the Honourable THOMAS PENN, Eſq; her Huſband, one of our Proprietaries, peformed in Wax Work, by Mrs. PATIENCE WRIGHT, an American born, and late of this City, which has been much admired by their Majeſties, and moſt of the Nobility of England, and may be juſtly eſteemed the Performance of a moſt extraordinary Genius.

Extract of a Letter from London, Auguſt 4.

"The Eaſt-India Company have come to a Reſolution to ſend 600 Cheſts of Tea to Philadelphia, and the like Quantity to New-York and Boſton; and their Intentions are to have Warehouſes, and ſell by public Sale four Times a Year, as they do here. Captain Cook was offered Part of that for Philadelphia, but refuſed it. I ſuppoſe they will charter Ships to take it in, as there are enough here will be glad of the Freight; but what will be the Conſequence when they arrive on your Side the Water I know not; but ſuppoſe, even if it is allowed to be landed, you will hardly let it be ſold."

We hear, that Summonſes are iſſued for the General Aſſembly of New-Jerſey to meet at Burlington, on the 10th of November next.

Captain Robinſon, from Briſtol, on the 24th ult. in Lat. 46: 53, Long. 38, ſpoke a Ship, Captain Gibſon, from Virginia for London, out 24 Days, all well.-----The Ship Betſey, Captain Hood, the Ship Chalkley, Captain Spain, and the Ship Severn, Captain Hathorn, were to ſail about the 24th of Auguſt, all for this Port.----Captain Robinſon informs, that they had a pleaſing Proſpect of a plentiful Harveſt in England, and that they expected a conſiderable Fall in the Price of Wheat, Flour, &c.---The Ship Kitty and Peggy, Captain Blair, belonging to this Port, was arrived at Briſtol from Jamaica.

Meſſieurs HALL and SELLERS.

WHEN Pacificus ventured to appear an Advocate for a Reconciliation amongſt the Friends of Liberty and the Conſtitution, he expected, and was therefore prepared for that Torrent of Scurrility, Abuſe and Miſrepreſentation, which has appeared in the Pennſylvania Chronicle; for it needed not the Aſſiſtance of the most skilful Occulist (to borrow one of the many hackneyed Metaphors of the Mechanic) to see that the Importance, if not the very Existence of some Incendiaries, depended entirely upon a Spirit of Faction, which they have unhappily excited, and therefore they would collect their whole Force to render his Endeavours ineffectual; and had not the Mechanic discovered himself by his peculiar Talents for Obloquy and Abuse, as well as his particular Resentment against Americanus, and the Heir Apparent to the Honours of the August House of Wharton, as he is pleased to stile his Adversary, also his Rage against Pacificus, for daring to insert his Piece in "ALL our Public Papers, except the CHRONICLE," perhaps Pacificus might have undertaken to have answered such Parts of his Piece, in which he could find, amidst the great "Urbanity" of the Author, any Degree of sober and decent Reasoning; but it was not Pacificus's Intention to become either a Party in the Author's Disputes with those Gentlemen, nor to support the Mechanic's Importance, by entering the Lists with him in a Way, which has rendered him so very distinguishable, and so very unhappy, as rather to EXCITE Pacificus's COMMISERATION than RESENTMENT.----And notwithstanding Pacificus is attacked with great Virulence by the Mechanic, yet he has the Satisfaction to know, that his proposed Plan for a Reconciliation met with the Approbation of the Friends of Liberty, by the Mechanics fixing on such Men to represent us, as will meet with a general Concurrence, as well as by the Declaration of several of the principal Persons amongst both Parties; therefore, as Pacificus's Intentions are chiefly answered, he shall pay no more Regard to the malevolent, indecent, and angry Attacks of the Mechanic in future, but shall leave him to the Punishment in his own Breast, which is the natural Consequence of his Malevolence, that has prompted him to a Behaviour so elegantly and forcibly expressed by Dr. Garth.

"Since by no Arts" he "therefore can defeat
"The happy Enterprizes of the Great,"
He'll "calmly stoop to more inferior Things,
"And try if HIS LOV'D SNAKES have Teeth or Stings."
